BRITISH GUNNERS POUNDED GERMANS NORTH OF SOMME RIVER AND TROOPS MADE THEM STRUGGLE HAND-TO-HAND

Haig's Men Continued to Press Harrassed Enemy Through-out the Night at Various Points, War Office at London Reports; Artillery Kept Up Its Heavy Bombardment; Germans Making Use of Large Numbers of Gas and Tear Shells

London, July 27.—Throughout the night British troops continued to press the Germans in hand-to-hand encounters at various points on the front north of the Somme, says an official statement issued to-day.

The text of the statement follows: "Throughout the night our artillery was active and we continued to press the enemy with hand-to-hand encounters at various points.

"The enemy is using large numbers of gas and tear shells in the battle area.

"Elsewhere on the British front there was no incident of importance in the last 48 hours."

LAURENCE GINNELL DISORDERLY IN HOUSE

Nationalist Member Compelled to Leave British Chamber This Afternoon

London, July 27.—Laurence Ginnell, Nationalist member of parliament for North Westmeath, was suspended from the sitting of the House of Commons this afternoon, according to the Exchange Telegraph, for disorderly conduct. At first Mr. Ginnell refused to leave and the sitting was suspended. Later he withdrew from the House when the sergeant-at-arms approached him with four attendants. After he had left the chamber the sitting was resumed.

APPEAL JUDGES TO HEAR APPLICATION BY ROGER CASEMENT

London, July 27.—Mr. Justice Darling announced to-day that the five judges who heard the appeal of Roger Casement against the sentence of death following his conviction of high treason in connection with the uprising at Dublin, would sit to-morrow to "hear a possible application on behalf of the convict."

NO WORD FROM STATES FOR ROGER CASEMENT

Washington, July 27.—An adverse report was ordered to-day by the senate foreign relations committee on all resolutions proposing intervention with Great Britain in behalf of Roger Casement. The resolutions considered had been introduced by Senators Martine, Phelan and Sterling.

WILL NOT LAST LONG.

Berlin, July 27.—A daily and direct steamship service has been established between Passau, Bavaria, and Belgrade, Serbia, by the Danube Steam Navigation Company, according to the Overseas News Agency.

CAPTURE OF POZIERES INDICATES GEN. HAIG'S FORCES WILL CONTINUE TO DRIVE FORWARD NORTH OF SOMME

London, July 27.—The capture of the last portion of Pozieres, north of the Somme, though it involved the clearing of only a few acres of ground, has caused all Britain to rejoice and strengthened the belief that the allied offensive will win through as planned.

In addition to the ground actually won, the success means the first breaking of the German third line since the miscarriage of the plans at La Bassée nearly 18 months ago; success against the German veterans at a time when it was evident they had put forth all their strength; and at a place they had resolved to hold at any cost; and, finally, the capture of heights which are the key both to the powerfully fortified Albert ridge, including the bloody ground of Longueval, Guillemont, Combles and the Fourcaux wood, and to the plains sloping toward Bapaume beyond.

NO BRITISH CRUISER IN CHESAPEAKE BAY

Report False; German Consul Says Deutschland Will Not Leave for Week

Washington, July 27.—Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador here, informed Acting Secretary Poik to-day that he had received a message from the admiral commanding the British squadron in the Atlantic, denying that a British warship had entered Chesapeake Bay, as reported by the commander of the United States battleship Louisiana.

APPEAL JUDGES TO HEAR APPLICATION BY ROGER CASEMENT

London, July 27.—If Captain Paul Koenig, of the German submarine Deutschland, planned to make an attempt to-day to start on the return voyage to Germany there was nothing going on at the pier where the submarine is berthed that was any more indicative of departure than has been the case for the last few days. Overnight developments, in fact, tended to increase the probability of a report late last night that it had been decided to hold the Deutschland here until some word has been received concerning her sister ship, the Bremen.

PUBLIC NOT TO SEE R. CASEMENT HANGED

London, July 27.—The London News Agency says that a public execution of Roger Casement is highly improbable, and that falling special instructions from the government, arrangements to hold it in privacy at the Pentonville prison on August 3 will be proceeded with.

CAPTURE OF POZIERES INDICATES GEN. HAIG'S FORCES WILL CONTINUE TO DRIVE FORWARD NORTH OF SOMME

British offensive will take a new spurt as soon as the captured ground can be consolidated. The statement that two trenches to the west were cleared is believed to show that General Haig already is pushing on along the Bapaume road and that soon he will be on the flank and perhaps in the rear of the ridge forts he has been seeking to seize by direct assaults.

As affecting his left, too, he is now in a much better position, since from the new positions his guns can enfilade the powerful fortifications of Thiepval and the strongly constructed Loos redoubt. All these positions, London believes, will be in British hands soon.

The British forces are now only about six miles from a decisive victory in the capture of Bapaume and the turning of the German positions along at least a 30-mile front. They were just as near at Gallipoli, but their outlook now is infinitely brighter.

BRITISH DOMINATE LAND EAST OF SUEZ

Complete Superiority Over Enemy Has Been Established, Commander Reports

London, July 27.—An official statement was issued to-day denying a Turkish official report of July 26 which stated that British cavalry forces about 30 miles east of the Suez canal had been dispersed. The text of the statement follows:

"The commander in chief in Egypt reports: 'It is stated by the German wireless that our cavalry has been driven back at Romani and Katia. Our cavalry is in occupation of Katia and nowhere has been driven back. Complete superiority over the enemy has been established by it, both in pushing reconnaissance and in driving in his covering parties at will.'

"The enemy has not even ventured to press any reconnaissance in our direction. The Turkish force at Oghraima dare not advance from that place and no Turk has been near Romani."

READY FOR BREMEN AS FOR DEUTSCHLAND

Reports Brought Two Entente Cruisers Off Beaufort Inlet, N. C., Without Delay

Beaufort, N. C., July 27.—Two allied warships appeared off Beaufort, late last night following reports that the German submarine Bremen was headed this way. Nothing was seen of the submarine, but the warships continued their patrol to-day, cruising about 15 miles off shore.

JAPANESE S. S. KOREA ASKED WASHINGTON TO KEEP SUBMARINES OFF

New York, July 27.—A wireless message to the state department at Washington from the Japanese steamship Korea, asking protection from German submarines, was overheard and reported to-day by officers of steamships arriving at this port. The message, they said, asked protection for the American officers and engineers who were on board the Korea to take her through the Panama canal to San Francisco, where she will be turned over to a Japanese crew.

SAN FRANCISCO POLICE THINK THEY HAVE MAN

San Francisco, July 27.—Chief of Police White intimated strongly to-day that the police believe that in the man Billings, arrested as a result of the investigation of the bomb outrage during the preparedness parade last Saturday, they have the man who actually placed the bomb.

BRITISH LOSSES IN OFFICERS JULY 1-21

London, July 27.—The severity of the fighting since the beginning of the present offensive on the western front is indicated by a list of casualties among officers issued by the war office, showing for the first three weeks of July, 1,108 killed, 2,384 wounded and 491 missing.

LABOR MAN IS HELD AT SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco, July 27.—A man described as "a prominent labor man" was taken into custody to-day by the district attorney's office in connection with the bomb explosion last Saturday. The authorities refused to disclose his name and secreted him for examination.

BULGARIANS HAVING THEIR EYES OPENED

Less Than Brigade of Austro-Germans Now on Salonica Front

Athens, July 27.—Following lengthy conferences between General Mocho-poulis, commander of the Greek forces at Salonica, and King Constantine and the Greek general staff, the impression is general in military circles here to-day that a resumption of hostilities in Macedonia between the entente and the central powers and Bulgaria is not imminent.

There are no indications that Salonica will be attacked. The Austro-Germans have fewer than a brigade of troops and the Bulgarians have only ten divisions on the Salonica front, and consequently, military observers point out, they are not in a position to undertake an assault on the formidable entente stronghold.

READY FOR BREMEN AS FOR DEUTSCHLAND

Reports Brought Two Entente Cruisers Off Beaufort Inlet, N. C., Without Delay

Beaufort, N. C., July 27.—Two allied warships appeared off Beaufort, late last night following reports that the German submarine Bremen was headed this way. Nothing was seen of the submarine, but the warships continued their patrol to-day, cruising about 15 miles off shore.

U. S. WAR VESSELS NORFOLK, JULY 27.—The armored cruiser North Carolina and three destroyers just outside Cape Henry, near the allied warship patrol line, worked slowly up and down to-day close to a British cruiser.

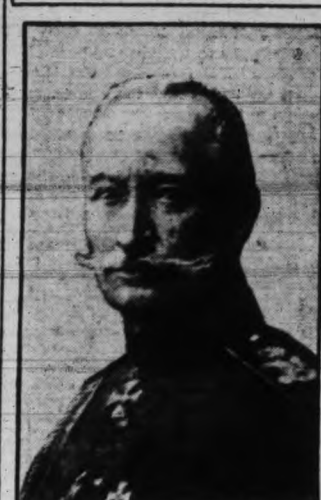

Supplemental reports on the mysterious appearance and identity of a foreign cruiser within the Capes on Monday night were being prepared by naval officers here to-day for the navy department. Various details of the incident have gone forward to Washington at different times since Tuesday morning but the department has expressed a desire for more. One point, it is understood, that it desires cleared up, is why the cruiser was not seen leaving the Capes. Thus far the only report of her being seen after she passed the battleship Louisiana on her upward journey has come from unofficial sources, who said they saw her on her outward journey near Cape Henry shortly before daylight.

BRITISH ADMIRALTY HAS LEARNED OF NO ACTION IN BALTIC

London, July 27.—Officials of the admiralty informed the Associated Press to-day that they had nothing to report of a new naval action in Scandinavian waters and had received nothing in any way confirming unofficial reports of naval activity in that vicinity.

A report published in a Stockholm newspaper on Wednesday said that prolonged firing had been heard on Monday coming from the Gulf of Bothnia, which forms the northern arm of the Baltic Sea. The newspaper report supplied no details.

ADDS TO TOTAL OF PRISONERS TAKEN; GENERAL BRUSILOFF

NOTE FROM STATES ABOUT BLACKLIST

Sent to Britain; 50 of Firms Not in Newly-Formed Organization

New York, July 27.—It was insisted in statement to-day by a number of firms on the British trade blacklist that, the newly-organized association in this country to resist British domination of American commerce is not a representative body to deal with the question. It was said that at least 50 of the blacklisted firms have refused to join the organization.

The British government blacklisted between 70 and 80 firms and individuals in the United States. Thus at least two-thirds of the blacklisted firms have declined to affiliate themselves with the organization launched by blacklisted German firms in New York and guided by a German attorney there, to bring pressure to bear on Washington to interfere with the British plan.

Washington, July 27.—A note to Great Britain objecting to the blacklisting of business firms in the United States as an "invasion of neutral rights," was cabled to London late last night by the state department.

The note discusses the principles involved and will not interfere with informal discussions between representatives of the two governments over the cases of individual concerns. It was said to-day.

Officials hold that the blacklist injures houses in the United States in violation of international law. The issues involved will be taken up also, it is believed, with Great Britain's allies, who are understood to have urged the blacklist on the ground that their own merchants were suffering and British merchants profiting through the failure of London to follow their lead in making war on all enemies, commercial as well as military.

Acting-Secretary Poik, announcing to-day that the communication has been dispatched, declined to discuss it further than to say that it contained "representations." He said it would be given out for publication on Monday.

U. S. ASKS BRITAIN ABOUT DETENTIONS

Treasurer of Irish Relief Fund, Wife and Other, Held

Washington, July 27.—Ambassador Page, at London, has been instructed to inquire of the British government the cause of the detention at Liverpool of Eugene Hughes Kelly, of New York, treasurer of the Irish Relief Fund, Mrs. Kelly and Joseph Smith. The ambassador also has been instructed to do everything possible in behalf of the Americans who have been denied permission to remain in England or travel to Dublin.

Similar representations probably will be made on behalf of S. S. McClure, the New York publisher, who has been ordered to leave England, as soon as the state department receives an official report on the incident.

ITALIAN AVIATORS DROPPED BOMBS ON DURAZZO, ALBANIA

Rome, July 27.—Official announcement was made here to-day that an Italian aerial squadron crossed the Adriatic and bombed Durazzo, Albania.

6,378 WERE ADDED TO PRISONERS CAPTURED BY RUSSIAN TROOPS

In Battles on Eastern Front Czar's Men Also Took Five Guns and 22 Machine Guns; Austrians Admit Withdrawal North of Brody; In Erzingian Russians Got Depot of War Materials

Petrograd, July 27.—In the battles on Tuesday the Russian forces captured 6,378 Teutons, says a statement issued to-day by the war office. Russian troops also captured five guns and 22 machine guns.

Russian forces operating in the Caucasus are continuing their pursuit of the retreating Turks, the statement says. In the Turkish fortress of Erzingian, Armenia, the capture of which was announced yesterday, the Russian troops took a depot of war materials.

The text of the statement follows: "Western front—During the night of Wednesday nearly a company of the enemy launched an attack south of Lake Voltchino, north of Lake Mladziol. The attackers were driven back to their trenches.

NORWEGIAN VESSELS SUNK BY GERMANS

Bams, Siebrid, Juno and Kent-gern Sent Down by Submarines

London, July 27.—German submarines have started a relentless war against timber-laden vessels in the North Sea. Four ships, all Norwegian, were reported to-day to have been sunk. They were the Bams, Siebrid, Juno and Kent-gern.

The captain and twelve men of the Kent-gern were landed to-day at Shields, where they gave details of the destruction of their vessel. The German submarine commander, after examining the Norwegian vessel's papers, is quoted by members of the crew as saying: "Well, I suppose I must do it. I am very sorry, but it is my duty. I am sick and tired of the whole business."

The ship was then saturated with paraffine and set on fire.

London, July 27.—Twenty-eight men, members of the crews of the Norwegian ships Bams, Siebrid and Juno, were landed at Rotterdam to-day by a fishing smack, says a dispatch to Lloyd's shipping agency. The three vessels were sunk by torpedoes in the North Sea while carrying cargoes of timber.

A GERMAN STATEMENT.

Berlin, July 27.—A German naval airship on July 25 attacked the main base for Russian and British submarines at Maricham, it was announced by the admiralty to-day. The airship bombed the port successfully. It was added, with 700 kilograms of explosive bombs. Although the air vessel was shelled, it returned to port undamaged.

ON WAY TO BAPAUME BRITISH HAVE COMPLETED HARDEST PART OF TASK; MOST FORMIDABLE DEFENCES TAKEN

London, July 27.—The final clearing out of Pozieres, north of the Somme, which the British considered the strongest point along the eight-mile sector where they have been driving for the last 11 days, came after midnight on Tuesday after three days and nights of some of the most desperate fighting of the war. The first rush of the Anzac men chosen for the tremendous task had carried them half-way through the village on Saturday night, but from that time on they had been winning literally only foot by foot. Each house, the ruins of each cellar, had been turned into a separate and powerful fortress, and from these the Germans literally had to be blasted out. Hand grenades, knives and occasionally the bayonet were about the only arms that could be used.

Finally, on Tuesday night, the Australian troops got through to the opposite outskirts of the town and were able to look down into the valley below, where the German communication trenches are, and to see in the distance the lights of Bapaume.

German counter-attacks are expected at any moment. The reports from

"In the district of Lubozy, southeast of Baranowich, there were artillery duels and engagements with our front line detachments.

"In the regions of the river Salona-wka and the river Boidurovka fights are proceeding for possession of the river crossings. Our troops have advanced at some points.

"The number of prisoners taken in Tuesday's battles on the western front totals 128 officers and 6,250 men. Five guns and 22 machine guns were captured.

"Caucasus front—We continue our pursuit of the retreating Turks. In Erzingian we took a depot of war materials."

Berlin, July 27.—A withdrawal of Austrian forces before superior Russian pressure north of Brody, in North-eastern Galicia, was announced by Austro-Hungarian army headquarters in its report of July 25.

Berlin, July 27.—Russian troops last night made a futile storming attack against the German positions on the river northwest of Baranowich, it was announced by the general staff to-day.

The Russians, it is added, also were singularly repulsed in the region west of Beresetchk.

CANADA MAY HAVE NEW CHIEF OF GEN. STAFF THIS AUTUMN

Ottawa, July 27.—That Major-General W. G. Gwatkin, chief of the Canadian general staff, will return to the imperial service this fall is a rumor current here. The story, while not confirmed officially, is generally accepted.

Col. Gwynne may succeed to the position if the major-general goes.

LIEUT. PARSCHAU KILLED.

London, July 27.—Lieut. Otto Parschau, of the German air service, recently decorated with the Order Pour le Merite for bringing down his eighth entente aeroplane, has been killed in an air battle, according to a Reuter's Amsterdam dispatch which quotes the Frankfurter Zeitung.

Berlin of the preparations for a German counter-offensive are taken seriously here and are supported by reports of British officers. For the enemy to fail to attempt to expel the Anzacs, the strategists say, would be an admission of defeat.

The military critics are convinced that no defenses so strong as those the British are attacking so successfully will be found beyond them and that the advance from the crest of the Albert ridge into Bapaume will be easy in comparison with the past tasks. If this were not the case, they argue, the Germans would not have abandoned the attack on Verdun to bring troops to defend the crest of the ridge so desperately.

Lord Derby, under secretary for war, said last evening:

"Everything is going well. Everything at the front is full of confidence. We have been in very heavy fighting. Nothing worse than this house-to-house fighting can be imagined, but we got what we went after. Man for man, despite the newness of our soldiers, they are more than a match for the Germans."

STREET CAR TROUBLE IN NEW YORK NOW

New York, July 27.—Upon the arrival here of W. D. Mahon, president of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees of America, the motormen and conductors of all the street railways in the city may be asked to join the trolley strike which has tied up lines in the Bronx and in Westchester county. President Mahon is expected to come from Detroit today to take charge of the situation.

The company's attempt to resume operations of cars in the Bronx at 8 o'clock this morning resulted in serious disorders. At one point heavy stones were piled on the tracks. Several altercations between strikers and carmen occurred and many persons were arrested.

Company officials announced at 10 a. m. that more than 20 per cent of its cars were running in the Bronx.

RUSSIANS POSSESS GREATER ARTILLERY

Admission Made in Semi-Official Statement Published in Budapest

Budapest, July 27.—Overwhelming artillery power is the secret of the Russian success, according to a semi-official statement published here. The article says:

"What is the reason for the Russian success? Briefly, the answer is: nothing but overwhelming artillery. The war is developing more and more into a war of mechanic and industries. What Russia cannot provide in this respect is being given her by her allies. She has received munitions in enormous quantities.

"If equipped with these technical means of power, a general has no more need for the instructions which hitherto have been the most prominent quality of any army leader; he gets nearer to the sober viewpoint of the engineer.

"On a front of a dozen miles the normal number of cannon is 200 or 300. In this number is doubled or trebled, and masses of ammunition are provided, then relative superiority is established. Our artillery cannot rival the overpowering strength of the enemy's guns, and therefore is unable to protect our infantry."

Haynes absolutely guarantees all watch repairs.

NEUTRAL COMMISSION TO FEED STARVING

Britain Will Allow Americans to Supply Areas Stripped by Enemy

London, July 27.—Great Britain will consent to the sending of food into the areas occupied by the armies of the central powers under the provision of a neutral commission appointed by President Wilson.

The full details of the British offer will be sent to Walter H. Page, the American ambassador, in the form of a letter for transmission to President Wilson. The general nature of the plan as outlined at the British foreign office will give the Wilson commission a chance to work with the support of the central powers in provisioning the occupied areas, provided the Austro-Germans take no more native food supplies from those districts.

On account of its cordial relations and semi-official standing in the various belligerent countries, it is considered here that President Wilson probably will request the Hoover commission to undertake the work if the plan meets with favor in Germany.

Belgium is not affected by the British offer, and the relief work there will continue under the existing plan.

FORTIFIED HOUSE NEAR ESTREES TAKEN

Gain by French South of Somme; Statement by Lloyd George

Paris, July 27.—The following official statement was issued last night: "South of the Somme a sudden attack by us made us masters of a fortified house about 150 metres to the southeast of Estrees. We captured some prisoners.

"Five cannon of 105 millimetres taken in a battery captured by us the day before yesterday south of Estrees, are added to the material already reported as taken.

"On the rest of the front the day was calm, except in Champagne, where a rather violent artillery action occurred in the sector west of Proseaux."

A Belgian communication said: "There has been some artillery activity."

London, July 27.—Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, secretary for war, in a published statement last night indicated the importance the German attached to the retention of Pozieres village, north of the Somme, by quoting a German divisional order issued on July 11, as follows:

"Furthermore, the conversion of villages into strong points is of the greatest importance. Such villages are Pozieres, Contalmaison and the two Bazentins and Longueval."

Mr. Lloyd George pointed out that with the capture of Pozieres the last of these villages has fallen into the allies' hands.

He further points out that the German claim of yesterday of the repulse of an attack on Trones wood must have been a clerical error, as Trones wood has been in British possession since July 14.

ROYAL COMMISSION FOR COBALT MINERS

Cobalt, July 27.—The dispute between the miners and operators with reference to wages and working conditions will be dealt with by a royal commission. The situation, owing to the large number of mining companies and the absence of an association of mine operators, makes it difficult to apply the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act, and Hon. Thomas W. Crothers, minister of labor, has suggested the appointment of a royal commission to overcome the difficulty.

"Black Sea—A squadron of our ships encountered the Turkish cruiser Breslau steaming in the direction of Novo Rostiskoe (on the Black Sea coast southwest of Ekaterinodar) and pursued her until darkness."

11TH C. M. R. ARRIVED SAFELY IN ENGLAND

Ottawa, July 27.—It was announced through the chief press censor's office last evening that the following troops have arrived safely in England: 11th Canadian Mounted Rifles, British Columbia; 88th Battalion, Ontario; 93rd Battalion, Ontario; 105th Battalion, Prince Edward Island; 106th Battalion, Nova Scotia; cavalry, artillery and infantry drafts and details.

AUSTRIANS SAY ALLIES SHOULD NOT SINK SHIPS!

Amsterdam, Jul 27.—Baron Burián voh Rajecz, Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, has handed a note to the neutral representatives in Vienna, saying a telegram received here, 16-day from the Austrian capital, protesting against the sinking of Austrian merchantmen by entente submarines.

ARRESTS WERE MADE IN SAN FRANCISCO

Police, Investigating Bomb Outrage, Raided a Home and a Studio

San Francisco, July 27.—Police raids on the home of Mrs. Belle Lavin, one of the witnesses called by the prosecution for the trial of the McNamara brothers in Los Angeles five years ago, and on the studio of Mrs. Rena Mooney, resulted yesterday, the police say, in the seizure of steel-jacketed bullets, slugs and other things, tending to link them with the preparedness parade bomb outrage here last Saturday. Of the more than 40 strikers by the dynamite blast nine have died and several of the remaining injured are in a dangerous condition.

Mrs. Lavin, who was the landlady of Matthew A. Schmidt, convicted as one of the Los Angeles dynamiters, was taken into custody yesterday after the arrest of her lodger, Warren K. Billings, as a suspect in the bomb case.

Mrs. Mooney, a musician, whose husband, Thomas Mooney, also is sought in connection with the explosion, is charged with having taken an active part in the fomenting of an attempted street car strike here recently. She was arrested a week before the parade on a charge growing out of this. Among the things seized in her studio, the police say, was a notebook containing records of explosives stolen from quarries hereabouts and of structures dynamited in this city.

Suspected of having been the author of many threatening letters sent to newspapers warning against participation in Saturday's parade, Thomas J. Ryan, a restaurant picket, was taken into custody last night at the waiters' union headquarters. Ryan's mistakes in spelling, under a test given by the arresting officers, are said to tally closely with those made by the writer of the threats.

Rewards for the apprehension of the dynamiters have reached a total of $15,350.

SUGAR BEET GROWING IN ALBERTA PROVINCE

Subject Dealt With at Convention of Irrigation Association at Kamloops.

Kamloops, July 27.—J. F. Sweeting, industrial agent of the C.P.R. at Calgary, dealt with the possibilities of sugar beet growing in Alberta in an address last night at the convention of the Western Canada Irrigation Association. In 1905 the Dominion government had started an investigation to ascertain the possibility of sugar beet culture in Alberta, proving beyond all doubt that it could be undertaken on a commercial scale, aided by efficient irrigation. Comparisons between the beet growing states to the south of the border gave a great advantage to Alberta.

At the experimental farm at Lethbridge very high percentages of sugar content and tonnage had been achieved. A comparison of the production of sugar beets in irrigated and non-irrigated areas disclosed as large an advantage as 25 per cent, in favor of irrigated areas.

The speaker quoted Robernson's statistical data relative to the amount of sugar-bearing beets required to warrant the establishment of mills for the manufacture of sugar.

In the year 1915 sugar produced from Canadian grown beets was 37,000,000 pounds, while consumption in the four western provinces amounted to 168,000,000 pounds—proof positive that markets were not necessary to seek.

A considerable amount of discussion followed and brought forth much information. In reply, Mr. Fairfield, superintendent of the experimental farm at Lethbridge, stated that sugar beets would grow in any well-balanced soil, that slightly impregnated with a small amount of lime water being the most advantageous.

Mr. Fryberger, of Bassano, Alta., testified to the fact that under irrigation he had had outstanding success in sugar beet culture and made considerable money thereby.

FOUR INJURED NEAR YELLOWSTONE PARK

Yellowstone National Park, Wyo., July 27.—B. C. Peterson, editor of the Powell (Wyo.) Leader, sustained a broken arm and internal injuries, Benny Rief, driver, sustained several broken ribs, and John W. Cook, registrar of the government land office at Lander, Wyo., and his wife were cut and bruised when an automobile bringing members of the Wyoming Press Association from Yellowstone National park, skidded on a turn of the Cody road yesterday and rolled down a 30-foot embankment. Slippery roads due to rain caused the accident.

Peterson's condition is reported as serious.

CYRUS CUNEO'S DEATH.

London, July 28.—Blood poisoning from a scratch of a society girl's fingernail was the cause of the death of Cyrus Cuneo, an American artist, a few days ago. This was the medical testimony at the inquest held today. Mr. Cuneo was the guest at a farewell party to some army officers departing for the front. In the general romp one of the girls happened to scratch his nose.

WHAT GERMANS HAVE DONE AT ZEEBRUGGE

Destroyers and Other Craft There; Guns Along Belgian Coast

Rotterdam, July 27.—Zeebrugge, the western eye of the German navy, has blossomed out into a well-equipped naval base, with aerial activity and military defensive works only paralleled by some of the coast fortresses of Germany itself.

A person who has had perhaps the best possible opportunities of knowing what is in this hornet's nest states that all along the coast naval guns of 28 centimetres have been placed in deep dug pits to defend the coast from any attempted landing, these precautions having been taken right up to the Dutch frontier, a perfect maze of earth works of an extremely strong character having been laid down under the names of "Great Berlin" and "Little Berlin" to hold up any advance from the east.

In the harbor, or drawn inland along the canals, there are now stationed, or, at least, attached to the port—fifteen torpedo boats and destroyers, under the leadership of three boats of the fleet, a respectable size and power, which have succeeded at various times in making a night dash from Cuxhaven.

There are also twenty to twenty-five trawlers and fishing craft attached to the port to perform various duties under different disguises and pretensions, four submarines of a large type, which also came down from Germany, and in addition a number of smaller craft built at Hoboken and brought down the canals. There are at least six of the smaller type and a further number of dummies displayed at these being occasionally displayed at certain spots as decoys for the allied airmen, who at first might excusably be deceived by German slyness.

Whatever the truth of the statements of serious damage by bombs, to-day the sluices are in perfect order, and, indeed, the Germans have now strengthened the structure by building a huge reinforced concrete belt three yards wide. The submarines which recently have been seeping in new waters have taken up their old station near the North Hinder lightship, where they hope once more to play the game of "point duty," stopping what they like and attacking what they hate.

sale as being effective for the treatment of infantile paralysis.

Department officials charged with the enforcement of the Food and Drugs Act, an announcement says, "expect the outbreak of infantile paralysis will tempt unscrupulous persons to offer for sale so-called cures or remedies for the dread malady. They therefore have issued special instructions to food and drug inspectors to be particularly alert for inter-state shipments or importations of medicines, the makers of which allege that they will cure or alleviate this disease, for which at the present time no medicinal cure is known."

New York, July 27.—Only a slight decrease in the epidemic of infantile paralysis was noted to-day in the health department's report for the 24 hours ended at 10 a. m. During that period there were 31 deaths and 161 new cases.

More than 700 children now have been killed by the plague since its inception on June 26, and there have been more than 3,000 cases reported.

GERMANY COLLAPSING, SAYS SIR E. MORRIS

Head of Newfoundland Govt.
Says Germans Beginning to Discern End

Paris, July 27.—Sir Edward Morris, premier of Newfoundland, in an interview to-day with a representative of the Havas News Agency, declared that the Germans are beginning to realize that the war is practically finished. Premier Morris has just returned from the section of the Somme front where the Newfoundland detachment is stationed.

Before leaving for the front he was asked by President and Premier Briand to express to his countrymen in the trenches France's admiration and appreciation of their splendid services. In his interview to-day he said: "The war is virtually finished and the Germans are beginning to realize it. The battle of Verdun, the greatest battle in history, is a victory for France. It is the finest of all her glorious exploits and gives a new impulse to the whole nation."

"German prisoners with whom I talked, officers wearing the Iron Cross, told me that the Kaiser and his staff seem to fear that Germany has lost the game."

"The collapse of Germany is only a question of time. When that day arrives, we must see that the victory won by our arms is not lost in diplomatic negotiations."

GERMANS UNABLE TO STOP BRITISH

Have Failed to Check Troops on the Road to Bapaume

New York, July 27.—The military expert of the New York Times in his daily analysis of the war news says: "The Germans apparently are unable to stop the progress of the British troops along the Albert-Bapaume highway, north of the Somme. No point on the British front is more important than Pozieres and its immediate vicinity. Pozieres is only a small village, and taken by itself is of small importance, but it commands approaches to what is of value."

"Nowhere else on the entire line have the Germans made the resistance they offered there. In spite of the terrific counter-attacks which the Germans have hurled against the new British line at each advance, the British still keep going."

"Germany has stated several times that the drive had stopped and each time the British secured fresh gains. Now that Pozieres is taken it would not be surprising if the British did pause for breath before making their next effort."

GLYCERINE AND BARK PREVENT APPENDICITIS

The simple mixture of buckhorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-ika, astonishes Victoria people. Because Adler-ika acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. It removes such surprising foul matter that a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-ika is astonishing. AN EXHIBITION AT M'BRIDE BY ROSS

Bowser Cabinet Utterly Disgraced by His Actions
at Meeting

FORT GEORGE VOTERS, SAW FOR THEMSELVES

McBride, B. C., July 27.—This town, the first inside the inter-provincial boundary on the C. T. P. which did not have a visit from the premier, was the scene last night of an unusually exhibition by one of his ministers on the occasion of the visit of the Liberal leaders, the meeting being held in the Empress theatre under the chairmanship of C. B. Cliff. Hon. W. R. Ross, driven out of Fernie and forced on the Conservatives of Fort George riding, came in yesterday with George Snell, road superintendent, with whom he is campaigning, and was invited to speak at the Liberal meeting. Before he arrived there it was apparent that he had taken steps to secure a friendly backing by having members of road gangs and heelers in the audience, which, nevertheless, was strongly Liberal in sympathy.

Fortified Against Chills.
Mr. Ross, who appeared to have been taking active steps to avert any untoward effects from a trip to Roush Valley on a railway speeder through heavy rain, came into the meeting late, in the middle of Mr. Macdonald's financial references. He sidled into a front seat, refusing an invitation to the platform, muttered thickly, "Tell us about Clancy," and kept on repeating it.

"I am not going to enter into a maudlin discussion with Mr. Ross," said Mr. Macdonald, and the audience stamped approval.

"If all he can say is one sentence, keeping repeating it, I am not going to waste time on him," Mr. Macdonald added.

Hon. Mr. Ross held outright more than once in the course of some short and rambling remarks he made to the people, whom he addressed as "ladies and gentlemen." He mentioned things which he said John T. Scott had sworn to, and was checked by Mr. Macdonald and Mr. Manson.

Aids Liberals.
Mr. Brewster remarked that Mr. Ross had done the Liberal party good service by making such an exhibition of himself.

"If that is the class of speech you are going to get from a man who poses as a coming premier, you had better leave him at home," said Mr. Brewster.

"He's a beauty all right," cried some of the audience.

Speaking of the P. G. E. overpayment, the Liberal leader said he would be very glad to discuss it on the platform at any time with Mr. Ross when that gentleman was in a condition to do so.

In the course of his declaration here that the opposition in three months had not found anything reflecting on the government, Mr. Brewster for some reason specified the Hannington case and claimed credit for having dismissed that official. In reply to this Mr. Brewster said Mr. Bowser had not dared to go before the committee and say he had done so he would have produced one of the most reputable men in this province to prove him a liar. To this man Mr. Bowser had stated that he knew all the time about Mr. Hannington getting a commission and saw nothing wrong in it.

The Truth.
"I knew why he did not think it was wrong," said Mr. Brewster. "The two thousand dollars which Mr. Hannington got was a very small part of the money which passed in this connection. I intend some day to put Mr. Bowser on oath and make him tell the truth about this example of grafting."

(Cheers.)
C. A. Gaskill, Liberal candidate in Fort George, had met the party at Burns Lake and on arrival here John McInnes, the Socialist candidate, was found to be in town. Both spoke at the meeting and so did A. M. Manson, Liberal candidate in Omineca.

GAS BURST FORTH IN CLEVELAND TUNNEL

Explosion Which Caused Loss of Nineteen Lives Uncovered Flow.

Cleveland, July 27.—Indications that a well of natural gas was uncovered by the tunnel explosion here last Monday were reported to-day by L. M. Jones, the government mining expert sent here from Pittsburgh.

The flow of gas not only made recovery of the bodies in the wreck impossible, but may prevent completion of the tunnel itself, Mr. Jones said. The gas well, according to the expert, apparently is of uncontrollable proportions.

Despite this development preparations for further exploration were made to-day. The unrecovered bodies lie behind a cave-in nearly 300 feet long.

Waterworks officials said to-day they believe there are only nine bodies in the tunnel, instead of eleven as previously estimated. Patrick Kearns, supposed to be entombed, turned up alive to-day. He had overstayed shore leave on Monday and missed death by a close margin. Justice Avo, another thought to be with the ill-fated force, is reported alive. This reduces the total loss of lives lost to 19.

The city investigation reached the stage of examination of witnesses to-day.

WOULD BAR GERMANS FROM THE EMPIRE

London Post Endorses Twenty-
One-Year Scheme Devised
by Kitchener

London, July 27.—The Morning Post, in its leading editorial today, urges the government to take drastic steps immediately to prevent the Germans from gaining a foothold, commercial or otherwise, in the British Empire after the war. The Post declares that Lord Kitchener, shortly before his death, devised a plan along these lines, which the paper now endorses.

"Lord Kitchener's proposal," says the Post, "was to pass a law that for 21 years no German should be allowed to naturalize himself or take up his domicile in the United Kingdom or any other part of the British Empire, or enter into any partnership in any British business or become a shareholder in any British company."

The same editorial, discussing German submarine activity, says:

"The Germans some time ago pretended to desert from their submarine policy. The truth is they had no more submarines to carry on the blockade because our navy had sunk nearly all. When the Germans build more submarines they will try again, but we have faith in the British navy to account for anything the Germans put on the water or under the water."

TWO YEARS AGO.

Two years ago to-day Great Britain appealed to the powers of Europe to suspend military preparations pending a round-table conference to discuss the differences between Austria and Serbia. Germany rejected the overture just as she had refused to entertain the suggestion that the dispute be referred to The Hague. Had that conference been held it is not unlikely that Austria would have been induced to alter her warlike intentions. But Germany was bent upon war. She had been determined upon that course for years, especially after the Agadir crisis. She feared that Great Britain would influence Austria towards a pacific settlement of the trouble. Indeed, her apprehension in this respect was well founded, for at the very last moment a rift developed in the clouds which overhung the peace of the world. Negotiations between Petrograd and Vienna, which had been broken off, were resumed through the tireless efforts of Sir Edward Grey. Then, on August 1 Germany, driven frantic by the bare possibility of missing the picnic for which she had been laboring so long, precipitated the conflict by declaring war upon Russia, followed by an insolent ultimatum to France and the invasion of Luxembourg and Belgium.

Germany, the lover of peace, the innocent victim of a murderous conspiracy? Germany, forced to draw the sword in her own defence, according to the mouthings of the Kaiser, von Jagow and Bethmann-Holweg in these days of chastening? She cannot show where she raised a little finger to avert the catastrophe; her own published version of the incidents leading to the outbreak admits the rejection of all Sir Edward Grey's overtures for a peaceful solution of the trouble. She could think of nothing but the imposition of her will upon Europe through loot and murder. And it was to be so easy—comparatively easier than her adventure of forty-five years ago, which fevered her blood and turned her brain—while the reward would be many times greater. In six months it would be all over. France would be crushed; her colonies would be severed from her and her gold would make Germany almost a taxless paradise for the German people. Russia would be crippled, her prestige in the Balkans gone and she would be forced into a ruinous trade arrangement with the victor, Belgium, Holland, Denmark and Switzerland, overpowered by the display of Teutonic military might, would be bullied into commercial agreements which would finally involve their disappearance as sovereign independent states. What a swag there was to be! How the thick lips at Potsdam slavered in the contemplation of it! And it was to be merely a foretaste of what was to come; of the next instalment of the programme, after a profitable intermission, when Great Britain was to meet the fate of France and Russia. "Deutschland über Alles!"

Our readers will remember the Berlin and Vienna dispatches in the early stages of the war, the grandiloquent official bulletins, the frenzied exchanges of congratulations between the Houses of Hohenzollern and Hapsburg over the "victories after victories," the "glorious exploits of our invincible army in Belgium," the daily celebrations and the songs of triumph of the Teutonic press. The armies themselves could not loot and destroy and murder fast enough. The peaceful cities, towns and hamlets of little Belgium, were blown to pieces with wild enthusiasm. The Huns were in their element when they held Louvain with its historic university and precious library under their guns; when they hurled their incendiary shells into Aer-schot, Termonde, Dinant and scores of other Belgian towns which could have been isolated and taken without striking a blow. They were out to destroy, crush, loot, plunder and murder; that was how they believed their exquisitely polished kultur was going to be spread over the world.

In those halcyon days for Prussianism no apologetic chords were struck in Berlin. Germany, we were told, was the judge of her own acts; she was a law unto herself; she would do as she liked in the world and with the world, and if the world did not like it let the world look out! We remember being at that time that this bragging, blustering bully, the "road-hog of Europe," as Lloyd George described it, had the soul of a coward and predicted that some day it would be whining and howling in the face of approaching defeat. And that is what this would-be world conqueror is doing to-day. The nation which two years ago boasted of its war madness and ruthless ambition now is pleading with neutrals to save it, protesting with sickening hypocrisy, its love of peace and its entire innocence of any aggressive designs upon its neighbors.

LOST ITS GOAT.

One of the ship's company of the Deutschland evidently has disappeared. The cool-headed, waiting Briton outside has contrived to annex the crew's goat. Incidentally, he seems to have affected Uncle Sam's nerves in the process, for an American battleship and several cruisers have been sent to patrol the three-mile limit along the coast to see that the country's blessed neutrality is not violated.

The Deutschland is at Baltimore, and Baltimore is in the upper reaches of Chesapeake Bay, which opens into the Atlantic through a comparatively narrow entrance. Off that entrance a British cruiser maintains a constant patrol. A few nights ago the programme was varied by a visit inside the Bay which seems to have caused quite a flutter at Washington, although it is admitted that there is nothing to prevent a belligerent vessel visiting neutral waters as long as she does not remain there more than twenty-four hours. The Leipzig had a habit of doing this, and no objection was raised. But what seems to be disturbing Captain Koenig as well as his sympathizers at Baltimore and Norfolk is the fact that the strange visitor was not seen to pass out of the bay. They evidently suspect that the Deutschland is not the only submarine in those waters.

One of the most amusing explanations of the Deutschland's delay in departing for home is the story that she is waiting to stow a cargo of gold aboard. Next to the Kaiser and the Crown Prince, gold is about the last thing a German submarine would attempt to carry across the Atlantic. Imagine an insurance company accepting a risk on a cargo of gold on that craft! What is troubling Koenig is the fact that many snares have been perfected by the allies for his capture, and that his escape from the North Sea into the Atlantic on his outward journey was a picnic in comparison with the dangers he will encounter on his homeward trip. The foe knows where he is; a British freighter is almost alongside his boat and the vigilant hunters outside will know of his departure within a few minutes after it is taken. More than that, the British admiralty has been dealing with hostile submarines too long not to have a few tricks in reserve of which nothing has been published.

"A STILL MIGHTIER ARMADA."

A few days ago a number of correspondents representing British and neutral newspapers were permitted to visit the Grand Fleet at one of its bases. What they saw filled them with fresh admiration for Albion's naval might. They found that not only had the losses in the battle-cruiser fleet been filled, but as one of them put it, "from this harbor at this moment could issue at half an hour's notice a still mightier armada than that which participated in the battle of Jutland." He adds, "herein we find one of the main reasons why battling with the British on the water is so desperate a job. Those best informed will tell you and convince you that the shipbuilding resources of Britain by herself equal if not more than equal those of the rest of the world combined. On a single river in England is concentrated a navy constructing and navy manning power competently estimated to be at least twice as large as the whole capacity of Germany in the same direction."

"This river is the base of Britain's greatest shipbuilding strength, but it is only one of a score of bases where the work of increasing the British naval supremacy is going forward with unimaginable intensity. Ships most formidable in weight, armament and speed, as we journalists have been permitted, freely to observe, are being constructed with a celerity surpassing belief. Whoever doubts this, should the test come, will get a rude awakening." This was written by the correspondent of a number of widely-read American newspapers. Similar articles have been received from other well-known correspondents. They will open the eyes of the large gullible element across the line which swallowed the German version of the Jutland battle. They ought to arrest the attention of one of our Seattle contemporaries, which announced in glaring headlines that the British navy had been "smashed." Great Britain could afford to lose as many modern capital ships as there are in the German and United States navies combined and she would still have the most powerful navy afloat.

ROYAL VISIT ENDS.

The Duke and Duchess of Connaught this morning terminated what was their last visit to Victoria in the term of office which His Royal Highness has filled with rare ability and distinction. No vice-regal representative has been so free from criticism either outspoken or implied, yet there is none whose incumbency of the post has been marked by more unusual developments in the life of the country and none has been less a figure-head. He has exhibited the same qualities by which his lamented brother, the late King Edward, made himself the most successful sovereign-statesman of the age, and won world-wide affection and confidence. The remarkable adaptability and "broad human sympathies" which distinguished that monarch were shown in the readiness with which His Royal Highness entered into the spirit of the Canadian people and his quick understanding of their problems and aspirations. Only one possessed of the instinct for real statesmanship and seized of the true spirit of democracy could have had so successful a record as Governor General of Canada during the last five eventful years as that which the Duke of Connaught will leave behind him.

Bowser's "triumphal" political tour appears to have "got on his nerves." Hecklers have dogged his footsteps throughout the entire itinerary. At a meeting held in an interior town the tormentors became so exasperating that the premier in desperation invited them to "come outside" and he would attend to them, individually or collectively. But wiser counsels prevailed, an armistice was declared, and war averted. Summary justice was not executed upon the rebels. Mr. Ross, second in command to Napoleon, and his logical and direct successor to the premiership, pursues different campaign tactics. He does not permit himself to become "intoxicated with the exuberance of his platform verbosity" or inflated with his stic prowess. He is a man of placid and even temper. The heated atmosphere of the places where men assemble to debate the issues of the day does not affect his nerves. No, he primes himself for the occasion from sources external to the hustings, and thus achieves results, as anyone will understand after consulting our report of a meeting held in a certain part of the province. No doubt supporters of both estimable gentlemen will note with satisfaction that a point always is reached where the worm turns. Both worms have turned.

The All-Highest insists that the purpose of the English (Gott strafe them!) is to destroy Germany. What was the purpose of the Germans, according to their acknowledged confessions in the early stages of the war? Was it not to destroy every nation that they thought blocked their way to what they called "their place in the sun"? What have they done to Belgium already, what have they done to Serbia, what did they try to do to England with their submarines and Zeppelins, and what would they have done to France if their purpose had not been frustrated? The worst that is in store for Germany never can atone for her deviltry, arrested before its complete purpose was fulfilled.

The All-Highest cares not who wins battles so long as he is permitted to send out reports through his Overseas News Agency of successive repulses of the enemy by Germany, Austria and Turkey. In the meantime it is interesting to note that the valiant Austrians have all but succeeded in "repulsing" the Russians clear into Hungary.

An unknown bug of doubtful antecedents and possibly mischievous proclivities and a noxious weed of questionable tendencies have mysteriously made their appearance on this side of the blessed. Are we going to be punished for our political sins by something akin to the seven plagues of Egypt? Evidently the time has come for a thorough housecleaning.

President Wilson is sending another "strong" note to Great Britain. Well, it has been a long time between notes, and we suppose the president must try to "keep his hand in." What a calamity it would be to the world if he should lose his literary touch.

passed now since Count Zeppelin's aerial heroes blew up an orphan asylum. The superbuthers seem to have lost their taste for gore under the withering fire of the Somme front.

If the Deutschland does not hurry the war will be over before she makes a round-trip. And the supplies she carries are urgently needed in Germany.

After all, is the unhappy Duke of Brunswick, reported to be crazy, one whit more irresponsible than his father-in-law the Kaiser?

KITCHENER.

Beneath the sullen sea
He sleeps his long, last sleep,
A nation's hope lies buried there,
A hundred fathoms deep.
For ever from the helm
The guiding grasp has gone;
But still his spirit seems to breathe
This message, "Carry On!"

His was the master mind,
The stern, iron hand;
His the indomitable will,
The ready wit that planned,
His not to see, alas!
The final victory won;
But we shall reap where he has sown
If we but "Carry On!"

And though our hero sleeps,
The Empire is awake,
Brave, gallant men who bear his name
Shall battle for his sake,
We cannot help but mourn
The setting of his sun;
Yet, till the day of victory dawn,
Please God, we "Carry On!"

WHAT GERMANY "MUST HAVE."
Collier's Weekly.

We keep seeing a lot of foreign dispatches which quote Von This and Von That as assuring the Teutons that Germany must have all sorts of things, world trade, colonies, sea freedom, boundaries, guarantees, assurances, alliances, etc. They don't get at the point. Germany must have statesmen. She has soldiers.

A BLUE OUTLOOK.

It may be that the ten-year-old Prince William of Germany, upon whom the title of Lieutenant has been thrust at a time when his country is in the midst of a disastrous war, will live to emulate his grandfather forty years hence by leading Germany through a similar bloody experience. Or, it may be, by that time the German people will have taken control of their own affairs and dispensed with the glorious services of their Hohenzollerns.

LITERATURE OR MUNITIONS.

We are not going to spend all the next generation in the making of explosives; and even if we were, it can only, at the very worst, be a small part of the people whose technical knowledge or ignorance will affect their making. But the whole of the people, each for his own sake and for the sake of all the rest, too, will need a knowledge of human life; and that knowledge, so far as it is got from education at all, can only be got from literature.

IF UNCLE SAM INTERVENED.

O Paix, Rio de Janeiro.
It is certain that the use of force by the United States against Mexico would raise on the American continent the most vehement protestation. It is impossible to deny also, that a painful impression is caused by the incorrigible turbulence of this Latin republic, which defies with amazing blindness the dangers resulting from its madness, and which

PERPLEXING PUZZLE FOR THE BOTANIST

Unknown Weed is Making Itself Nuisance to Prior Street Residents

A new noxious weed, whose identity is still shrouded in mystery, has been located on Prior street.

Residents of the street complain that they cannot open their windows on account of the noxious smell arising from the unknown weed.

While the public of that district have been thus aware of the objection, the city council has lived happily unconscious of this addition to the flora of Victoria until the attention of the members has been called, to it by Deputy Minister of Agriculture W. E. Scott, with a request to have it eradicated as a nuisance.

He has sent specimens to the plant pathologist in the hope that the new species may be given a name, and genus.

Mr. Scott also calls the attention of the city council to the necessity of removing the hemlock which exists in many parts of the city, and whose poisonous character has been the subject of reference in prose and poetry throughout the ages.

IS FOUND DROWNED

Body of Mrs. Norman Hirst Discovered in Water Off Beacon Hill Park.

The body of Mrs. Norman Hirst, 133 Cook street, was found yesterday in the sea about one hundred feet from Beacon Hill park. People walking along the cliff saw her coat and jacket lying upon the rocks, and after a short search, discovered the body in the water. The police were notified at 1:45 p. m. and Constables Allen, Palmer and Coburn went to the spot and secured the body. There were severe bruises on the head, it being evident Mrs. Hirst had struck the rocks when she fell into the water.

Mrs. Hirst's death was evidently accidental, there being no reason to suspect anything else, either that it was premeditated or caused by foul play.

When her husband, Norman Hirst, left home at 8 o'clock yesterday morning as usual to go to his work, Mrs. Hirst was in the best spirits and intended during the morning visiting the new house into which the family proposed to move.

When Mr. Hirst went home at lunch time and found she was not there he telephoned to the new house to ascertain if she had been there. The reply was that she might have been at the house before 10 o'clock as there was no one home until that hour. It is supposed that having visited the house and found no one in she went for a walk along the shore and sat down on the rocks, taking off her hat and jacket. It is thought that from some cause she fell over and was stunned by striking the rocks below, being carried offshore by the tide. There is no reason to suppose her death was the result of premeditation, in fact the relative believe that it was an accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Hirst came to Victoria about five weeks ago from Hamilton, Ont., where her health had not been good. It had, however, greatly improved while here. Mr. Hirst went to work for Thomas Plimley in the automobile business. — is a brother of Harvey Hirst, chief draughtsman in the land registry office. The late Mrs. Hirst was 35 years of age. The funeral arrangements will not be made until after an inquest has been held.

PRETTY WEDDING

Miss Dolores Warren and Mr. D. C. Mackay Married at St. John's Church.

A very pretty wedding took place on Monday last at St. John's church. Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick officiating, when Dolores, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Warren of 949 Meers street, was united in marriage to Mr. Donald Campbell Mackay, a member of the firm of Mackay & Gillespie, of this city.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was charmingly attired in white satin and wore the tulle veil which her mother wore on the occasion of her marriage. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses.

The bride's attendants were Miss Jessie Mackay, in pale pink ninn, and Miss Lucy Warren, in blue ninn, both wearing picture hats and carrying beautiful bouquets of fragrant sweet peas. Mr. Edwards supported the groom and the usher was Neil A. McKinnon of the 50th Gordon Highlanders.

Mrs. Mackay's wedding March was rendered very beautifully by Mr. Burnett, the organist, as the wedding party was leaving the church.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, where many friends availed themselves of the opportunity to offer their felicitations to the young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Mackay left on the afternoon boat for Vancouver and the Sound cities the bride travelling in an attractive costume of blue taffeta with a pretty Tuscan hat. The groom presented her with a beautiful necklace set with diamonds and cameo, Miss Mackay with a gold ring set with cameo, and a gold cameo brooch to Miss Warren. Many beautiful and costly presents were received by this popular young couple.

On their return to Victoria they will reside at 1024 Pendergast street.

Garden Party to-day.—The postponed garden party of the Congregational church is being held this afternoon and evening at the home of Mr. Bert Howell, 3064 Marion street (take Willows car). There will be games, vocal and instrumental music and refreshments. All friends will be made welcome.

BUSINESS TO-MORROW

Miscellaneous Matters to Come Before City Council in Committee.

Several matters of varying interest will come before the streets and sewers committee of council to-morrow afternoon.

The meeting is to be preceded by a conference between the aldermen and members of the Sanich council with regard to the action to be taken to lift the execution levied on the homes of two officials, one from each municipality, arising from the judgment in the McCann case.

At the committee meeting it is proposed to discuss at greater length a matter to which some preliminary attention has already been given, that is to amend the revenue (payments authorization) by-law in order to facilitate the procedure in initiating public works authorized by the expenditure by-law.

The regular business of the committee is not expected to occupy much time.

ROMANO THEATRE.

One of the most remarkable film productions to be placed on the market since the outbreak of the present European conflict, will be the headline attraction at the Romano theatre for Friday and Saturday only: "The Daredevils of War," as the film is called, was produced from scenes taken in Europe, and condensed by the process of editing to two reels, so that the entire two thousand feet contains nothing but the best scenes from thousands of feet of film sent in by the cameramen in the war zone.

This picture shows with remarkable clearness some of the most daring feats of horsemanship ever attempted, in which the cavalry are seen coming down almost perpendicular mountain sides. The launching of a torpedo in plain sight and the deadly weapon of modern warfare striking its mark, are other remarkable features of the production. There are battleship deck actions and other scenes which will give the spectator an idea of the magnitude of modern warfare, as it is being waged at the present time.

PANTAGES THEATRE.

Everyone in Victoria is interested in Teddy McNamara and his inimitable comedy at Pantages theatre this week. Teddy has always been a favorite since his first appearance here with the Pollards some years ago. After the summer engagement which that company filled at the old Victoria theatre some four years ago, he has been remembered for his athletic skill as well as stage successes, especially in cricket and baseball.

Teddy McNamara is steadily climbing up the scale of comedy and will one day have his name written among the few strikingly clever comedians. His appearance in "The Elopers" is reminiscent of Eddie Foy singing "How Did the Bird Know That." He is a very entertaining comedian and is supported by particularly good cast. Comedy is the prevailing feature at this popular theatre this week.

Will Morris, who opens the bill, puts the audience in a receptive frame of mind with his eccentric pantomime cycling turn. Morris draws more applause than anyone else on the programme, because he has an original way of putting his comedy over the footlights. There is nothing new in his act, except his own personality, but that is enough.

The headline number is a musical comedy extravaganza entitled "The Elopers," composed of a company of 13 most of whom are girls. "The Elopers" has just sufficient plot to knit the songs and dances together. The scene is laid in a young ladies' seminary that furnishes a fitting background for the elaborate production. The principals in the cast sing eight catchy songs, supported by the chorus, and then the entire company render the final medley.

Gracie Deagan and Homer Dickinson present a pleasing song and dance novelty that goes over big. Gracie appears as a shy little girl of 8 who wants a chance to sing before an audience. Dickinson gives her the chance, and she makes good, and the audience applaud her efforts. She has a lisp that draws a continuous ripple of laughter.

La Zar and Dale are a couple of "dark clouds" that let in a ray of sunshine. They are blackface comedians, and present an Ethiopian travesty entitled "Joining the Union," and bring joy to the hearts of many with their rapid fire of fun.

Davett and Duval have a one-act playlet called "Holding Out" that gives the audience a peep into the domestic life of the actor. Florence Rayfield sings several pleasing songs.

hurryin' up; they're putting on the songs
three at a time."

CHARMING WEDDING
AT ST. JAMES' CHURCH

Miss Violet Sweet and Mr. W.
L. Thomas Joined in Marriage Yesterday

A very charming wedding was that celebrated yesterday at high noon at St. James' church, James Bay, when Violet Evelyn Mary, eldest daughter of Venerable Archdeacon Sweet, of Vancouver House, Wilmet Place, Oak Bay, and of the late Mrs. Sweet; and Mr. William Llewellyn Thomas, eldest son of Rev. D. Thomas, late rector of Garsington, Oxford, were joined in the bonds of holy wedlock.

The church, of which the bride's father was rector for many years, was beautifully decorated for the occasion by girl friends, crepeers from the old house, St. James' rectory, being twined about the chancel rail and pulpit, and white marguerites and roses being used lavishly in the further embellishment of the interior.

The bride was stately and beautiful in a robe of white satin with bodice of Georgette crepe trimmed with Maltese lace worn by her mother on her wedding day, and had her mother's bridal veil of white Brussels' net held in place with a half-wreath of orange blossom.
The sheer skirt, sprigged with orange blossom, fell over a beautiful hand-embroidered under-dress. The only ornament worn by the bride was a cameo brooch of her mother's, and her bouquet was of white bridal roses.

The marriage rite was performed by Venerable Archdeacon Sweet, father of the bride, the latter in the absence of her brother, Major J. H. Sweet, of the 72nd Seaford Highlanders (on active service) being given away by her sister, Mrs. Hamlet, who wore a lovely frook of old rose taffeta and a picture hat with wreath of French roses.
There were two bridesmaids, the Misses Eileen and Lorna Dumberton, who wore picture bolero costumes of blue and white striped silk with deep collars of Georgette crepe, and white chip hats faced and trimmed with blue and pink, respectively. Each of the pretty bridesmaids carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas. The bride's small niece, Miss Dulcie Hamlet, made a dainty flower girl in pale pink mulle with a large lover's knot of blue forget-me-nots picked out in ornamental pattern in the little bodice. She carried a basket of sweet peas. The best man was
Mr. H. Browning.

The church was crowded with friends of the bride and bridegroom, the former having taken an active part in many of the church organizations during her father's long incumbency of St. James' and having hosts of well-wishers in the district. The choir, of which the bride was a member for many years, was augmented for the occasion, and led in the singing of the two hymns, "O God Our Help," and "O Perfect Love." The organist played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin as the bridal party entered the church and passed up the aisle to the chancel steps, and the Mendelssohn Wedding March was given while they left the church.

Showers of confetti rained on the happy pair as they drove away. A reception, attended only by immediate relatives and more intimate friends, was held later at Vancouver House,
Wilmet Place, the home of the bride's father, among those present who had also been at the ceremony at the church being Miss Sweet, an aunt of the bride, who was in grey with a black bonnet. A buffet wedding breakfast was served, the dining-table, centred with the big wedding cake, being ornamented with bowls of Dorothy Perkins roses. Marguerites and sweet peas were used in the drawing room, where the many presents were displayed.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, who are followed by the good wishes of a very wide circle of friends, are spending their honeymoon in Vancouver, and in a short time will return to take up their new home in Victoria. The bride went away in a becoming travelling dress of blue broadcloth with grey hat.

Don't suffer!
Nerviline is your relief.

Nerviline just rubbed on, lots of it, will ease that drawn, tight feeling over your ribs, will destroy the pain, will have you smiling and happy in no

"I caught cold last week while motoring," writes P. T. Mallory, from Linden. "My chest was full of congestion, my throat was mighty sore, and I had the fiercest stitch in my side you could imagine. As a boy I was accustomed to have my mother use Nerviline for all our minor ailments, and remembering what confidence she had in Nerviline, I sent out for a bottle at once. Between noon and eight o'clock
I had a whole bottle rubbed on, and then got into a perspiration under the blankets. This drove the Nerviline in good and deep, and I woke up next morning fresh as a dollar and absolutely cured. Nerviline is now always part of my travelling kit, and I will never be without it."

The large 50c. family size bottle is the most economical, or you can easily get the 25c. trial size from any dealer.

"I'm trying to get back to my poor old mother," whined the tramp. "She ain't seen my face for ten years." "I believe you are speaking the truth," muttered the old gentleman. "Why don't you wash it?"

BANTAMS ADD SIX MORE TO NUMBERS

143rd Battalion Now Very Close to the Nine Hundred Mark

Six more recruits for the Bantams were sent on to Sidney this morning to join the 143rd Overseas Battalion, C. E. F., which is next in line for dispatch from Victoria to the front. With the arrival of these men the numbers of this unit will be close to the nine hundred mark, which it is hoped to pass before the week ends. The Bantams are recruiting enthusiastically, every man of the staff engaged at Victoria, Vancouver and elsewhere being energetic in the work of inducing men to come forward and take up arms for king and country with the 143rd. The result of this campaign, which was commenced with renewed vigor at the beginning of July, is evidenced from the fact that this month will be the banner one in recruiting. From June 1 to date enlistment has been at the rate of over five men a day, Sundays included. In June 122 enlisted, and it is anticipated that about 180 will be enrolled this month, making a total of 300 men in the two months.

It has been suggested by members of the civilian recruiting committee, formed to assist the enrolment of men for the 143rd, that as it is generally understood that some of the battalions now being formed will be sent forward as drafts to reinforce the divisions at the front, that the short men be drafted without delay to fill up the ranks of the Bantams and make them ready for quick dispatch overseas.

Some interesting additions were made this morning to the unique display in the windows of the recruiting office of the Bantams at the corner of View and Broad streets, a display which attracts attention from wayfarers throughout the day. A piece of shell which cut through the overcoat of Pte. Fieldhouse, of the 48th Battalion, together with some Mauser bullets, and the badge of the 48th Highlanders, loaned by Mrs. Fieldhouse, mother of this soldier, were added to the exhibit.

INSPECTING TROOPS AT ISLAND CAMP

Brig.-Gen. Hughes Went Out to Sidney To-day; Visits Work Point To-morrow

Brigadier-General John Hughes, Inspector general of military forces for western Canada, arrived here from the mainland yesterday afternoon to inspect the troops stationed at the military camp at Sidney. He is accompanied by Lieut.-Col. C. J. Kaye and Lieut. C. L. Barker, A.D.C. General Hughes left Victoria this morning, accompanied by his staff, for Sidney, and to-day is holding an inspection of the 143rd B. C. Bantams, the 231st Seaforth Highlanders and the contingent of Yukoners. He will return to Victoria to-night.

To-morrow General Hughes is to inspect the permanent force at Work Point barracks and will leave Victoria on the return journey to-morrow night. The Inspector general held an inspection at Vernon on his way to the coast. He also inspected on his second trip to Victoria. He was here during the winter when the Willows camp held three battalions and the 103rd were at the drill hall. He then expressed every satisfaction with the troops and their training.

The Bantams whom he is inspecting to-day have been recruited since his last visit.

VICTORIA VOLUNTEER RESERVE.

The range will open at 7.30 this evening when the following members are listed to shoot: Sgt.-Maj. Cantwell, Corp. King, Ptes. Arson, Chapman, Carey, Carter, Carpenter, Fokimoto, Glendinning, Harman, Hewison, Holden, Hopkins, Locke, Richardson, Sayer, Simpson, Smith, Stubbs, Sutcliffe, Willis and Bartlett.

Last Thursday Lieut. Petherbridge took first place with a score of 49 and won a set of views taken when the troops were leaving Victoria. The consolation trophy was captured by Pte. Williams.

THE RURAL MIND.

Clarke has a weakness for tramping in the country and usually dresses for the part. The result was that one day when he took a seat in a homeward bound train the young lady opposite him mistook him for a farm hand.

But bless her, her soul was so nigh to bursting with beautiful thoughts that she must speak or go off pop. So she turned patronizingly to Clarke.

"Don't you feel an utterly passionate sympathy with nature's most incandescent aspirations?" she gushed, with a rapid look in her eyes, "when you are walking on the illimitable sky-touching moors or riding through the dim aisles of the horizon bound woods, my good man?"

The "rough looking person," as she would have described him, promptly replied:

"Yes, that is so, and I am frequently drawn into an exaltation of rapt soulfulness and beatific incandescent infinity of abstract contiguity when my foot catches in the burrowed domicile of the lepus cuniculus—otherwise a rabbit hole."

"Indeed!" gasped the young lady, much surprised. "I had no idea that the lower classes felt like that!"

Have you smoked "Noblemen" Cigars lately?

DRASTIC.

To the Editor.—In the issue of the Times, July 21, your correspondent who signs "British All the Time," returned soldiers. His idea may do for the city people, but what about the soldiers who may go on the land? He would advise the government to clear land and rent it to Chinamen in order that they may compete with our boys who are now fighting for us at the front. I consider that would be German to the core, and not British at all. My suggestion would be for the government to make a standard wage for all Chinamen, and that wage should be the same as is paid to the white laborer in each particular district. Take $3 per day as an example. Let all who desire employ the Chinamen, but two-thirds of his pay to go towards the disabled soldiers, widows and orphans whose husbands and fathers have been killed in the war, leaving one-third to the Chinaman. But the lad who may settle on the land should have to pay the Chinaman only $1 per day. In each case the Chinaman should get only $1 per day. Another drawback to British Columbia is people being allowed to lease to Chinamen. Let us use Mr. Chink, but don't let him drive us out of the country.

OLD TIMER.

July 24.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

To the Editor.—"Will you walk into my parlor," said the spider to the fly? And like a lot of fools we did walk in, and are now sorry for it, but we never dreamt of treachery and the graft that has robbed us of everything we had. The only chance now for British Columbia is to show its utter detestation of all this graft and put the McBride-Bowser government where they can never play "spider and fly" again.

Most of us have lost everything we had, and now face destitution through barefaced robbery, such as the Dominion Trust scandal, the Land, the Timber, and Railroad scandals.

How can any man make headway under the patronage system as exposed here and in Vancouver?

These wreckers are now scheming to get the soldiers' vote at present in Great Britain, hoping to elude the vigilance of British Columbia scrutineers. It is a hopeless task, for disgust at the "spider and fly" business has followed our soldiers to Europe, and the war office knows more of Sir Richard and his friends than they dream of. We do not take garrotting lying down.

Another term of office to these unscrupulous maladministrators would mean such an exodus from British Columbia as would appal the stoutest assessors of British Columbia real estate and prove they have been, and still are, in a fool's paradise.

DISGUSTED.

DEVELOP VANCOUVER ISLAND.

To the Editor.—Extension of the railways to the north end of Vancouver Island and a boat service to connect with all trains for all northern coast points. My ideas are as follows:

1. A daily car ferry from Seattle would enable the Victoria merchants to receive all goods from the south two days quicker and in much better condition than at present.

2. It is the direct route from the south, and a large amount of goods shipped north by boat would be billed this way to save time.

3. A railroad to the north end of the island connected by boat for northern points would enable our Victoria merchants to sell goods up north and deliver them by the quickest possible route.

4. This system of transportation would put Victoria and Vancouver Island in direct communication with all points north.

5. It would bring double the trade to our local merchants.

6. It would encourage capital to develop the iron, copper, coal and gold properties; it would assist the timber holders to erect and operate sawmills, and shingle mills would be erected and operated instead of our cedar going to the States and being sawn there as now.

7. It would greatly assist the farmer, fruit grower and stock raisers, all of which is badly needed on Vancouver Island, and as our production is so small compared to the consumption in these lines.

8. All passengers and freight leaving Victoria for northern points would go direct and arrive a day sooner.

9. All mail and express would be routed this way because it would reach its destination at least a day sooner.

10. It is coupling up the natural Pacific route from the most southern to the most northern points.

11. The extension of the railway with boat connections on each end of Vancouver Island would be a great feeder for a railway connecting with the mainland across Seymour Narrows.

12. Victoria has as many telephones in use to-day as ever before, there are more children going to school than ever before, and the water office shows as much water used as ever before, therefore our population must be as large as ever before (about 60,000). This being a fact proves that Victoria is holding her people. What will happen when the war is over? We are to-day living off each other too much. Our city is so large that it demands direct connections with the mainland east and south to keep us solvent and enable us to handle a population of 100,000 and more, which is sure to come soon.

13. Our local banks are closing down little by little on the line of credit our local merchants have heretofore enjoyed. To help the merchants of Victoria in helping us all. The banks want their money that is secured by real estate and say they will wait no longer. To develop the resources of Vancouver Island would soon right everything.

14. A living for all of our returned soldiers must be provided for in some way.

A railway to the north end of the island would open up a country for mining, lumbering, shingle mills, fishing, fruit growing, stock raising and all kinds of farming for ten times the number of men we have at the front.

15. Strathcona park after this railway is built with boat connections would bring thousands of tourists here.

16. Boats are too slow and travel too far away from the fields of production to be of much use. We want a railroad running through the heart of our island from end to end. The "get-there-quick" service is what we want.

17. Let us all unite and make an open demand on the railways for this service, they could have it in operation in one year. Then watch Victoria grow.

BID GOOD-BYE TO ROYAL VISITOR

The Duchess of Connaught Receives Women's Canadian Club at Government House

The Women's Canadian Club, through the officers and executive who formed a special deputation, for the purpose, yesterday afternoon at Government House, bade farewell to H. R. H. the Duchess of Connaught, who received them in the ballroom. The address, read by Mrs. F. A. McDiarmid, vice-president of the club, was as follows:

"To Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught, Madame, may it please your royal highness:

"We, the Women's Canadian Club of Victoria, British Columbia, take this opportunity of expressing our pleasure at your visit and our appreciation of your kind and gracious acts during your residence in our country.

"As western women we are especially grateful for the effort made by you and the Princess Patricia to extend the work of the Victoria Order of Nurses to the remote parts of Canada.

"We have heard from time to time of the interest you have taken in hospitals and schools and in other work for the benefit of the people in Eastern Canada.

"We are grateful for the kindness and sympathy bestowed by you upon the Canadian men who are so dear to us and are glad to know that some of the gifts sent from Rideau Hall were the work of your own hands.

"The gallantry shown by the regiment that bears your daughter's name, must be to her and to you, a source of pride, although mingled with grief at the loss of so many lives. We are sure that you share in our longing for the peace that will bring our men back to us.

"In bidding you good-bye, we hope that you will carry away with you many happy memories of Canada, and that, whatever of regret, the parting may bring, will be forgotten in the joy of meeting children and grand-children, when you reach the land, we still love to call home.

"It would not be fitting to close this address without expressing the high esteem in which we, as Canadian women, hold your noble husband, H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught.

"Hoping that you and he, and those you hold dear, will be followed with all blessings.

"Your royal highnesses' most obedient servants.

"MARGARET JENKINS, President.

"KATE ELLIOT, Secretary.

"Victoria, B. C., July 26," 1916.

Artistic Work.

The address was very artistically prepared, being the work of Miss Doris C. Holmes, of the local Public Library staff. With the Women's Canadian Club colors, gold and royal blue, it was surmounted by the Dominion coat-of-arms, around which were each of the provincial coats-of-arms. Maple leaves and sheaves of grain, worked with fine care, edged the scroll, which bore at its foot the emblem of the Women's Canadian Club in Victoria.

The token of loyalty and esteem was acknowledged by her royal highness, who expressed warm approval of the work of the organization as a whole. She was presented by Mrs. D. R. Ker with a bouquet of roses and sweet peas tied with the club colors, a gift which her royal highness also very graciously acknowledged.

Boy (to Pa, who has just been to meeting of the missionary society)—"Pa, did you not tell me that the poor negroes we gave the collection for had no clothes on at all?" "Yes, my boy." "Well," returned the wide-awake boy, "why did you put a trousers button in the box?"

"Has the age of fable passed?" asked the high school girl of her mother. "Not in this house," replied the mother, who had just been listening to dad's explanation of why he did not get home until three in the morning.

SHOCKER PITCHING

SENSATIONAL BALL

Holds Opponents Scoreless for Thirty-Six Consecutive Innings

By blanking Newark the other day Urban Shocker, the former Ottawa spitballer, now with Toronto, pitched his fourth straight shutout game. This means that in the last thirty-six innings he has not allowed a run. It was Shocker's thirteenth victory in fifteen starts. By beating Newark he also achieved the distinction of having defeated every club in the International League. It was the first occasion he had faced Newark. Shocker has pitched six shutout games this season. He has beaten Rochester and Providence each three times; Montreal and Richmond twice and Newark, Baltimore and Buffalo once each.

BAPCOS WILL PLAY AT FRIDAY HARBOR

The Bapcos, following their easy victory over Ladysmith, will journey to Friday Harbor to-morrow where they will meet the team of that town in two games. The boys have been assured a good time on their trip, a dance having been arranged for the evening after the games. Balcom and Milne will do the pitching for the Bapcos.

LACROSSE MEN BUSY

Arrangements Progressing for Big Labor Day Game at the Royal Athletic Park.

The lacrosse men are not letting any grass grow under their feet in their endeavor to make the forthcoming Veterans vs. Present-day players game one of the biggest sporting events of the season. Henry Hurst, the local lacrosse enthusiast, has promised to assist in any way possible and the promoters are meeting nothing but encouragement in every quarter.

OREGON TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Portland, Ore., July 27.—Only one Californian remains in play in the Oregon state tennis tournament. He is Clyde Curley, of San Francisco, who yesterday defeated Ernest Adamson, of Medford, Ore., with ease, 6-2, 6-1. Allyn Barber, of San Francisco, was eliminated by Rev. L. K. Richardson, estate titleholder, but it required three sets to do it. The scores were 6-4, 5-7, 6-2. H. S. Gray, of Lewiston, Idaho, former Idaho titleholder, is still in the running, being victorious yesterday over A. R. Munger, of Portland, winning 6-2, 6-1.

OVER-CONFIDENCE

DEFEATED MORAN

Made Mistake of His Life When He Under-Estimated Skill of Dillon

Over-confidence, the curse of every athlete, sent Frank Moran skidding from the heights to the depths of has-beens; dropped him from his once lofty position as foremost contender for the championship to a place so low that he never may rise again, says a writer in a New York paper. It also killed his chances of ever again earning big money as a fight performer.

A lesson can be learned by all pugilists from the case of Frank Moran; a lesson that will teach them never to regard a foe cheaply.

Frank Moran made the greatest mistake of his life when he under-estimated the fighting skills of Jack Dillon. He thought that his prowess with the "Giant Killer" would be nothing but a mild workout for him. But instead, the fight practically eliminated the band Pittsburgher from the front ranks of heavyweights, and has made the one time hero of the ring little more than a scuffed-at battler.

Moran reckoned that Dillon would be "pie" for him. He had in mind the fact that he would be six inches taller and have almost the same edge in reach. Furthermore, he reckoned that if he (Moran) could score two knock-outs over the giant Jim Coffey, and give a great fight to the massive Willard, it would be easy for him against the mighty Dillon.

And so Moran didn't do any extensive training for his affair with Dillon. During the weeks that intervened between his fights with Willard and Dillon he lived a carefree life. He put on weight and so forth. He permitted his muscles to soften.

When he went into his camp in White Sulphur Springs, N. Y., Moran worked out—yes, but he didn't try much zip into it. He didn't try with might and main to harden his muscles, to develop his wind and to fit himself for a grueling battle. What was the use? A clinch fight was ahead, wasn't it? And arduous training isn't to the liking of any man. So Moran just took things easy and meanwhile issued statements that he was going to beat one Jack Dillon to an unconscious pulp.

When Moran jumped into the ring on the night of the Dillon fight, the crowd gasped. No wonder. Moran's bulky stomach bulged over the waistline of his trunks.

Moran's feeling of contempt for Dillon continued through the early rounds of that fight. In so little regard did he hold Dillon that he made one of the worst fouls of his career in the third session. He went out then and tried to finish a man who was still fresh; tried to land a "haymaker" upon a man whose jaw is likened to concrete, before the man was worn down. The Pittsburgher, knowing that he wasn't in real fighting condition, would have accomplished much more, if he had played a waiting game and saved his energy. But, instead, he rushed Dillon in that third round. He chased his agile foe around the ring and lashed out his arms like flails. He felt that Dillon must go down and out under those blows. He had staggered the giant Willard with one of them, hadn't he? Well, how then, could the tiny Dillon stand up under them? Oh, yes, Moran knew that such energetic tactics as his in the third round would use up his trifling reserve power. But what was the difference? He'd reach Dillon with one of those crushers surely—and then the fight would be over and he wouldn't need any more steam.

But Moran's over-confidence that permitted him to enter the ring almost unarmed also led him to use up all the "pep" he had in that third round. However, Dillon, much to Moran's amazement, didn't drop in that third round. He didn't seem to be flurried. In the fourth, Moran, his strength waning, made a last desperate effort to send Dillon to dreamland. He failed—and then it was that he began to pay for his folly of over-confidence.

Out of condition, he had no stamina. He had used up all the real power that was in his fat body in the third and fourth rounds. He had nothing left. He became little other than a punching bag for Dillon. His every movement was slow. His arms seemed like rolls of lead; he was winded, worried, altogether thrashed.

OVERLAND PLANT

Export Dock at Toledo Factory Interesting Sport for Visitors

A visitor through the large Willys-Overland factory at Toledo, Ohio, would find it difficult after a tour through the automobile plant to state which operation in the building or shipping of the Overland automobile he deemed most interesting.

Some stop and look in wonder at the gigantic toggle press that presses 2,000 side rails from cold steel every eight hours; other marvel at the methodical efficiency that prevails in the assembly building where the light, economical Model 35-B is put together and tested. But there are also many who stop for a long time on the export shipping dock and watch the crew of carpenters encase Overland and Willys-Knight cars for foreign shipment.

The operations in themselves are not as interesting as those of the toggle press, the assembly rooms, or a hundred and one other places throughout the plant; but the huge packing cases, with the shipping addresses of points thousands of miles away conjure up in the minds of the sight-seers visions of other climes and other people.

After a car that is marked for export shipment has been assembled it is driven to the export dock, where it is placed on stout planking which will soon be the bottom of a packing box.

The gasoline tank is drained, the wheels are taken off, steering column and wheel dismantled and the top is lashed to the seats of the car or the sides of the box. The latter are lined with water-proof paper to prevent the salt air of the ocean from rusting the metal parts of the car. In a surprisingly short time the car and its contents are made snug for their long journey, a piece of canvas is laid over the car, the wooden cover is nailed down and the destination is stencilled on.

Several times a day a pony engine backs down the export track and removes these huge cases. They are transferred to a freight train and sent to New York or the Pacific Coast. There they are hoisted into holds of vessels bound for foreign climes. It is not long before the cars reach their destinations, are reassembled and put in perfect running order.

Candy a Heart Specialist. According to a more or less weighty authority, candy is what enables the people of Canada to keep up their constant exercise of energy. Candy is said to be a heart specialist. The muscles of the body require sugar and the more a man or woman brings his or her muscles into play the more they demand sweets to stimulate them, and thus the craving for candy arises. The heart also requires sugar as a mild stimulant, since the heart is in reality a great big muscle bag, and the man who has a big physical test of endurance before him is subconsciously warned of the need of extra sweets by a craving for more candy. The effect of candy upon the heart of young maidens has long been understood, though it is only recently that its beneficial effects on the male have become known. Wiper's candies are free from substitutes, which only make them injurious to health and indigestible. Special for Friday and Saturday, cream and chocolate buttons, 20c. per lb. Fourteen gold and silver medals for purity and excellence. Wiper & Co., 1210 Douglas street, opposite Sayward block.

When Appetite Fails and Health Declines Follow This Suggestion

REQUIRES ONLY A COUPLE OF SMALL TABLETS AFTER MEALS TO FIX YOU UP AGAIN

A New Blood-Food Called Ferrozone Sure to Restore You Quickly.

Every day comes the good news of wonderful cures with Ferrozone.

In Peterboro it worked marvels for Louis Meehan—put him right on his feet, made him entirely well.

"About three years ago," says Mr. Meehan, "I had the grippe which left me in a very run-down condition that finally developed into dyspepsia. I was unable to eat but a few things and had a craving for acid. I gave up treating with the doctors because they did not help me, and on the advice of a friend used Ferrozone. It not only cured me of dyspepsia and biliousness, but has built up my strength to what it was before I had the grippe. I can recommend Ferrozone as an ideal restorative."

Ferrozone gives you force, energy, vim.

It strengthens the stomach, cures indigestion, prevents headaches—guarantees good health.

QUESTIONS RIGHT TO HEAR CASE NOW

Brewster Versus Bowser Suit Mentioned in Supreme Court Chambers

HEARING ADJOURNED FOR ANOTHER WEEK

Defence Claims Subject Is Not One for Vacation Sittings

In the absence of R. T. Elliott, K.C., who was to have led for the plaintiff the application in supreme court chambers this morning to hear the action of Brewster versus Bowser was laid over for one week.

The argument before Mr. Justice Morrison to-day was almost strictly confined to the question whether the matter is one of urgency, in other words, ought it to be taken during vacation.

Plaintiff is applying with the object of obtaining a judicial decision on the validity of the acts of the legislature subsequent to March 14, and for an alleged breach of trust in illegal payments to the directors of the Pacific Great Eastern railway.

H. C. Hall appeared for Mr. Brewster, and W. J. Taylor, K.C., for the attorney general. The inspector of legal offices, A. V. Pingo, was also present. Observing Mr. Justice Ives in the well of the court, his lordship called the Albertan judge to a seat on the bench.

There was a small attendance when the chambers opened.

Mr. Hall, at the outset, asked for an adjournment for a week, in the absence of Mr. Elliott.

Mr. Taylor, on behalf of the attorney general, requested his lordship first to consider the question whether it was a vacation matter at all. He read a list of things which were provided for attention in vacation, and said that it clearly lay outside those limitations.

On the other hand, Mr. Hall observed that there was no prohibition against such a case being heard, and quoted an authority to the effect that suits which could properly come before a court in sittings could also be introduced in vacation.

His lordship: I am inclined to think that it is not a question of urgency in this case.

Mr. Hall in submitting that the subject was urgent, remarked that the statement set out the representations of plaintiff. Mr. Hall pointed out that since no statement of defence had been filed, the attorney general, as far as this action is concerned, must be taken to have admitted an illegal payment of $6,700,000 to the Pacific Great Eastern, that the House had expired on March 13 or 14 last, that the government had no right to raise the $10,000,000 by way of loan, or to pay it out. In spite of this, the attorney general had indicated his intention to raise the money and spend it.

His lordship pointed out that if plaintiff secured a judgment, it was unreasonable to suppose that the attorney general would allow it to go to that. On the question of costs, plaintiff might gain a few dollars, that was all.

Mr. Hall: If we had a judgment of this court that the attorney general was not entitled to borrow the money, no one would lend it.

The judge expressed his opinion that the matter should be fought out in the courts, and the principles raised could then be settled properly.

Mr. Hall: We are in the position that the writ was served. No appearance was entered. We wrote to the attorney general, but received no reply.

His lordship: How was it served, personally?

Mr. Hall explained that it had been served as provided, by service on the deputy attorney general during regular office hours under the rule he quoted.

Mr. Taylor rose to argue that the case was not one for vacation hearing, and said the plaintiff could have commenced the action prior to vacation.

Mr. Hall said some preliminaries had to be carried out first, one of them being the transmission of notice to the minister of justice at Ottawa.

His lordship then granted an adjournment for one week.

It would appear that the attorney general intends to take advantage of every technical objection.

ON VISIT TO CITY

Prominent New York Engineer Makes Brief Stay This Afternoon.

Prominent as a paving specialist, one of the best known engineers of New York city, C. D. Pollock, arrived in the city from the south this afternoon, and left again on the afternoon boat en route home. He was met at the wharf by City Engineer Rust, an old friend, who showed him something of the city in the short time at his disposal before the steamer left.

Mr. Pollock explained to the Times that he had been called in as an expert witness in a patent suit involving the use of a particular kind of street sprinkler nozzle at Portland, and on the settlement of the case early this week he decided to visit Victoria.

He enjoys a large practice particularly in paving matters, advising a number of influential bodies throughout the United States. Formerly he was in municipal employment with engineering departments in Manhattan and Brooklyn, and later spent two years in Havana as an adviser to the Cuban government in public works. Then he inaugurated the paving programme at San Antonio, Texas, and later has held a number of varied engagements.

Mr. Pollock asked a number of questions with regard to local engineering conditions and municipal undertakings in the district.

VICE-REGAL PARTY LEAVES FOR EAST

Royal Visitors Depart This Morning by Steamer Princess Patricia

Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and the Princess Patricia, who arrived in Victoria just a week ago to-day in the course of a farewell tour of the Dominion, left this morning for the mainland. The steamer Princess Patricia, with the Royal Standard flying at her mast, sailed from the C. P. R. wharf, Belleville street, at 11 o'clock, the royal visitors being given a farewell wave by the several hundred citizens who were down at the boat to see them off.

The leave taking was without formality, as their arrival had been. They were accompanied to the boat by His Honor the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Barnard, and some of the military officers stationed in the district. Two cars conveyed the viceregal party and those who accompanied them from Government House to the boat.

The journey eastward will be almost without interruption. On Friday the duke will alight from the train at Kamloops to address the wounded soldiers who have returned there from the front. He will be met also by a deputation of the tenth annual convention of the Western Canada Irrigation Association, now in session at Kamloops, of which organization he will be asked to become patron.

On Friday afternoon his royal highness will visit Revelstoke. George Bury, vice-president of the C. P. R., and other railway officials, are to meet him at the station and drive him over the new auto road on which construction work is now in progress. The Duchess of Connaught, Princess Patricia, and other members of the viceregal party will probably accompany the duke. The visit to Revelstoke will be purely informal, by special request of the duke. High School Cadets of Revelstoke will patrol the auto road, and a squad of the Home Guard will also be on duty.

The viceregal train, which is being boarded by the party on their arrival in Vancouver to-day, consists of nine cars.

Yesterday's Duties.

Besides the garden party at Government House yesterday afternoon the royal visitors spent the day fairly quietly. The Duchess of Connaught and the Princess Patricia went for a short motor drive round the environs of Victoria in the morning, the duke, Col. Stanton and Major Buff spending the morning in the city discussing the trip back to Eastern Canada with officials of the C.P.R. The evening was spent quietly at Government House.

On Tuesday the Princess Patricia and some of the viceregal party visited Shawnigan Lake, stopping at Strathcona Lodge and indulging in an hour's fishing. During their short stay at the lake the party landed eight beautiful trout.

THANKS FROM QUEEN

Regent of Camosun Chapter, I. O. O. E. Has Letter Expressing Gratitude.

The following is an extract from a letter received by Mrs. Andrew Wright, regent of Camosun Chapter, I. O. O. E., from Lady Lawson, acting secretary at the Queen Mary Needlework guild, headquarters, London, England:

"The queen desires me to convey to you and all your kind workers, her majesty's grateful thanks for the nice things you have sent to her guild. Her majesty would like all the workers to hold much she appreciates the work sent, and to tell the kind Indian women how much her majesty admires their socks. The queen was so interested in hearing that they had spun and carded the wool used in making the socks. They are just what the men like and they are so comfortable in their thick boots. We do indeed appreciate the things you have sent and the way you are all working for us and thinking of us so far away. All the things you send go off at once to the men and hospitals at the front. Socks are always needed as the men require so many and any you send will be most gratefully accepted."

The socks mentioned in the above letter of thanks are the result of the little petticoat made by Her Majesty Queen Mary, and raffled by Mrs. F. Barnard with such success that the sum of $402.55 was obtained. This sum was handed by Mrs. Barnard to Mrs. H. Croft as regent of Camosun chapter, material was purchased locally and the members of Camosun chapter have made and sent to the guild 103 flannel shirts, 328 pairs of socks, 3 sleeveless sweaters, and purchased and sent 98 pairs of Indian socks.

In a recent letter received by the Montreal branch of the Queen Mary Needlework Guild, Lady Lawley, hon. secretary in London, England, says "Her majesty was much astonished what one of her little petticoats has been and is doing for the cause, as we see that in addition to six cases of comforts made from the proceeds of this little petticoat, there is more to follow."

TWO SPEAKERS AT ROTARY LUNCHEON

T. S. Watson on Military Y. M. C. A. and Frank Higgins on Last Convention

T. S. Watson, in charge of the local Y. M. C. A. military work, and Frank Higgins, the Victoria Rotary delegate to the Cincinnati convention addressed the Rotary Club at lunch to-day, the former on the work done here for the soldiers, and the latter on his visit to the convention.

Mr. Watson said when war began the government was not prepared to undertake all sides of the training of soldiers and the Y. M. C. A. recognized the extremity and took up the social side of the work. This had grown enormously and dealt with the moral, social and religious sides of the character. The Y. M. C. A. had now become indispensable in the life of the soldier. Huts had been built to carry on the work in Britain and Canada. In the old country there were 1,500 of these, and in Canada 45 secretaries were actively engaged. At the Willows there had been a building, 35 by 50 feet, erected and fully equipped. The value of these buildings to men away from home had been very great. Many cases were known of where men had, through the military Y. M. C. A., been again brought into touch with their homes after long absence and silence. There were educational classes connected with the work and also a recreation department at Vernon, one man being specially detailed for the latter. In Canada $300,000 had been collected for overseas work and a large subscription made in England. The appeals to the public had been very successful.

The local work had been supported by the I. O. O. E. and other societies, and also by the public, and there had been no necessity for a public appeal for funds. At the end of June they had been only $500 behind and subscriptions from the public would be welcomed.

Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Higgins said at Cincinnati he had with him Rotarians Christianson, Schmiedt and Wilkerson. He had found a serious side to Rotary, in which the biggest men there were interested. There were representatives from nearly all the churches.

He thought the Rotary spirit was being taken into municipal life and personal affairs, and that the clubs were working for their fellow beings in many ways. The doctrine of "we must give to receive" was adopted by 85 per cent of the club members, and the sections agreed that this thought would dominate the world. He thought the Victoria club should take up matters of public importance one at a time and go on with it until successful. In this connection he mentioned the public swimming baths as the first thing to be taken up.

The officers elected at the convention were: Arch. Klump, president; F. Galbraith, vice-president; Guy Gundaker, 2nd vice-president; Rev. Leslie Pidgeon (Canada), 3rd vice-president.

Mr. Higgins reported that the Victoria club stands high in Rotary and that the city had received much advice from Rotarians who have visited here. He had made arrangements with the Union Pacific by which Victoria would receive some extensive advertising in the future.

MESSAGE OF SYMPATHY

Mrs. Whittier Receives Cablegram From the King and Queen.

A cablegram from their majesties the king and queen was received yesterday by Mrs. Whittier, 1242 Fort street, expressing their condolence in the death of her son, Flight Sub-Lieut. Douglas Whittier. He was killed in an aeroplane accident last week while making a flight over the Isle of Thanet, Kent.

A Spanish stockbroker who murdered his assistant told the authorities that he could remember nothing of the murder at all; in fact he ought to note such trifling incidents in a diary.

"I would be willing to work," said Thomas, "if I could get the sort of job I want." "What would that job be?" "Well, I wouldn't mind calling out the stations on an Atlantic liner."

Elks Dance To-night.—The regular monthly flannel dance of the Elks will be given in the clubrooms, Campbell building to-night. Dancing will be indulged in from nine until one. The supper arrangements are in the hands of the capable ladies' committee, and music will be rendered by the Elks orchestra. Elks and friends are invited.

Concert Postponed.—The concert which was to have been held on August 4 at the parliament buildings by the Arion Club has been postponed until August 11. The Victoria and District Red Cross Society, under whose auspices the entertainment was to have been held, have decided on this step in order that the success of the Italian Red Cross "tag day," arranged for August 4, may not be interfered with. The commemorative concert designed by the Arion Club will not suffer by the alteration of time, as there will be moonlight on August 11. Mrs. MacDonald Fahey will sing, and there will be a band to assist.

Johnny had just started learning history, and very proud of himself he was. One evening, as he sat studying his lesson, he thought he would test his grandfather's knowledge of the subject, so he asked: "Grandpa, do you know what great war broke out in 1867?" The old man raised his head from the evening paper and looked thoughtfully at the lad. Then a sudden light came into his eyes. "Why," said he, "that was the year I married your grandmother."

SEEKS RULING ON ARBITRATION ISSUE

Hanna Case is Again Before Court To-day; No Settlement Yet Reached

The Hanna arbitration case again came before the court this morning, in an application by F. A. McDiarmid on behalf of W. J. Hanna in supreme court chambers for a ruling on points raised in the arbitration proceedings.

Plaintiff is seeking to collect compensation for the expropriation of land for a lane through block W, between Pandora avenue and Johnson street, of which the city gave notice in 1912. In 1915, after reference to the courts, the city was compelled to appoint an arbitrator, and this spring an arbitration board was constituted.

Immediately it set to work, difficulties as to the class of evidence to be admitted arose, hence the application to-day to Mr. Justice Morrison. The city solicitor appeared on behalf of the city.

After reciting the history of the expropriation to his lordship, Mr. McDiarmid asked for a ruling whether the board of arbitration ought to admit evidence of land values on the basis of 1916 when the notice was given, or of 1912 when the proceedings to determine compensation are in progress, and also whether the city is entitled to offset the alleged damage by bringing evidence to show that the lane is a benefit instead of a detriment to the property.

Mr. McDiarmid explained to his lordship that the matter was complicated by the fact

GENERAL CADORNA'S BLOW MASTER-STROKE

Not Once Since Counter-Offensive Started Have Italians Given Ground

Milan July 27.—A vivid story of how General Cadorna paralyzed Austria's giant plan of invasion of Northern Italy is told in the Corriere della Sera by the most brilliant and experienced of Italian war correspondents, Luigi Barzini.

The Austrian reinforcement of the Trentino front began towards the end of last November. By the middle of March they had begun a definite preparation for their action, the outburst of which had been timed for the middle of May. Such was their utter contempt for the resisting power of the Italian army, so implicit was their trust in German assurances of Russia's unpreparedness and paralysis, so colossal was their cocksureness of smashing through all the Italian defences on the tablelands at one fell blow and pouring down into the Lombardy and Venetian plains in the rear of Italy's main forces on the Isonzo, that they coolly proceeded to denude their eastern front of artillery and undertook the frightful risk of choking with hordes of picked forces the Trentino labyrinth of deep, narrow gorges amidst regions altogether waterless and exceedingly badly off for roads.

How, then, did it come about that these gigantic forces, supported by over 1,000 guns, mostly of the larger calibre, have been hurled back in a short space, leaving over 160,000 of their best soldiers dead or wounded on the field?

Joffre's Tactics.

It is here that a still more wonderful story begins. General Cadorna never for a moment expected his brave troops to be able to withstand the terrific Austrian onslaught by standing on their advanced positions. He was well aware that he must adopt tactics similar to those whereby General Joffre stemmed the tidal wave of German invasion, and saved France by falling back on the far-off Marne.

His plan was dictated by the considerations that whereas the Austrians, from their formidable permanent fortifications close at hand, could carry any attack in a few hours from whatever direction it might come, and rush forward their huge reserve forces at Trent into any one of the converging valleys, it was on the other hand imperative for him to keep his concentrated reinforcements at a good distance ready to ascend any particular valley that might be threatened.

"Remember, my men," said he, in his stern, historic order of the day, "that it is here you have to defend the soil of the Fatherland and the honor of our army. These positions must be defended to the death."

For four days and four nights the Italian State railways surpassed by one-third their maximum theoretical capacity by transporting some three-quarters of a million troops over 20,000 engines, 1,000 wagons and about 100,000 quadrupeds.

The second grand new army was marshalled on the spot ready for action, and that very day star signs appeared of the Austrian advance being definitely checked.

The Crisis Passes.

The cruelly anxious moments when the dwellers in Vienna had watched with fast-beating hearts from their house-tops the bursting of big shells all around them, even to the admittance of the general staff it seemed that the adversary might dash down from Cengio or Pausio or Novvo, or else shatter the vital positions of the Buole Pass, thereby causing the collapse of all the defences in the Adige valley, and the opening of the way to Schio—those moments had now passed.

Addressing his magic new army, General Cadorna exclaimed: "Men of the Fifth Army, happily it is not your lot to overwhelm the enemy on the plain. I am sending you yonder to help your sorely-tried comrades on the heights."

Fortwith Cadorna flashed the order to every sector of the Asiago plateau: "Up, men, and at them!"

Meantime there was being performed a miracle of motor cars and motor lorries. In a single night an entire division was transported to the Carnic Alps in the Pasubio region (on the frontier, S. E. of Rovereto) in automobiles, Guns and Cans.

Whole batteries of cannon were rushed up to the Trentino Alps in this fashion; nor was it a rare sight to see big pieces of mountain artillery journeying to the heights upon the luxurious cushions of some titled aristocrat's commandeer motor car.

Thousands of navies toiled incessantly on the imperative construction of new roads.

To solve the burning problem of an adequate water supply for the hundreds of thousands of combatants a new artificial lake was created by damming the outlets of a stream.

Four hundred odd cistern motor lorries were provided for the transport of water alone.

The excellence of the arrangements made with such foresight have borne fruit since in the steady advance made by the Italian troops. Not once since the counter-offensive was launched have the Italians given ground; their movement has been always toward the enemy. The series of announcements in which the rolling back of the Austrian tide has been told has brought satisfaction to the people of Italy unequalled since the country went to war.

ARGUMENT ON N. S.

PROHIBITION ACT

Temperance Alliance Opposed
Effort at Ottawa to Have
It Disallowed

Ottawa, July 27.—Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, to-day heard legal argument on behalf of those who are anxious to have the Nova Scotia prohibition act disallowed.

The Nova Scotia act is similar to the Manitoba act, although Nova Scotia was in the "dry" list with the exception of Halifax before the act came into force. The act was introduced by an opposition member, not being a government measure. There were only three votes against it, however, and these were from Halifax.

It is claimed by the holders of licenses in Halifax granted in February last, for which $30,000 was paid, that the act is inequitable and unjust. The licenses in question were abolished without compensation of any kind, and it is claimed that this interferes with vested rights.

It also is contended that some 100 retailers and wholesalers have been deprived of their business, that 150 employees have lost their positions and that $350,000 worth of liquor has not been disposed of.

The Nova Scotia-Temperance Alliance defended the act to-day, declaring that the legislation was within the jurisdiction of the province and declaring further that the Manitoba act, which is similar, has been upheld by the privy council. The alliance was in favor of returning the license money, but declared that that was a matter to be settled between the license-holders and the city, not the province.

The board of control recommended a refund, but the province turned it down. The provincial government was not represented.

The license-holders were represented by Eugene Lafleur, K.C., of Montreal, and Humphrey Mellich, K.C., of Halifax, and R. H. Murray and R. H. Grant appeared for the Temperance Alliance. The minister of justice reserved his decision until a later date.

WHOLE SECOND LINE TAKEN BY BRITISH

Paris, July 27.—The capture of the village of Pozieres, north of the Somme, from the Germans, military officers say, means that the British are in complete possession of the German second line in the Somme region.

The fight for Pozieres lasted eleven days, from July 14 to July 25. The place was defended by 200 machine guns, of which all except 30 were destroyed or put out of action by the British artillery.

A species of fort in the centre of the village was defended by a company of Bavarian infantry. These troops resisted for twelve hours, and at the end of that time only four men were found alive. In a dugout close by a heap of 60 bodies remained unburied. The last defenders of the village were the men of a Bavarian battalion who were decimated as they crossed the 300 yards between the village and a cemetery where they made their last but unsuccessful stand.

NATURE OF WILSON'S NOTE ON BLACKLIST

Washington, July 27.—Acting Secretary Polk said this afternoon that the note on the British blacklist of firms in the United States cable to the British government last night does not deal with any of the specific cases of firms blacklisted, but deals wholly with the principle, and calls for action on the part of Great Britain.

DISPERSED GERMANS

DRESSED IN KILTS

British Guns on Somme Front
Attended to Enemy Soldiers
Attempting Trick

With the British Army on the Somme Front, July 26—Via London, July 27.—A curious incident was observed by the British troops holding the ground south of High Wood. They suddenly noticed a body of men coming out of the glades and were surprised to see that they were in kilts. For a moment it may have occurred to them that they were some of the wounded Scots who had fought through High Wood a few days previously.

That could hardly be possible, however, because the enemy in strong numbers is in the upper part of the wood. An officer, staring through his glasses, uttered a word of astonishment and two of anger. The men on the skyline were Germans dressed in kilts taken from British dead. The British guns put some shells over them and they disappeared below the ridge.

FOUR BURNED ON THE OTTAWA RIVER

Small Passenger and Freight Vessel Destroyed at Quyon, Que.

Montreal, July 27.—The steamer G. B. Green, a small passenger and freight vessel plying on the Upper Ottawa, was destroyed by fire at her dock at Quyon, Que., early this morning and four sleeping members of the crew lost their lives. The dead are: John Stevenson, engineer, North Bay, Ont.; Geo. Bryant, engineer, Mattawa, Ont.; Oscar Lapierre, deckhand, Quyon, Que.; F. Gustin, watchman, Alton, Que. The rest of the crew escaped by jumping into the water.

The origin of the fire is unknown. There were about a dozen persons on board.

TRIAL OF ROBLIN AND OTHERS AT WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, July 27.—With the jury completed, the trial of Sir Rodmond Roblin, George R. Caldwell and James Howden advanced another stage this forenoon, and R. W. Craig, K. C., on behalf of the crown, commenced his preliminary address to the jury.

Juryman G. A. Pound, who was sworn yesterday, was permitted to retire this forenoon owing to serious illness. In his family. His place was taken by A. E. Cumlin, the sixth farmer among the twelve men who will try the ex-ministers.

LITTLE CHANGE IN THE FERNIE STRIKE

Fernie, July 27.—There was very little change in the strike situation to-day. This morning 30 to 40 men went up on the train, and it is reported that nearly a hundred men are at work.

WINNIPEG BANK CLEARINGS.

Winnipeg, July 27.—The bank clearings for the week ended to-day were $40,891,782, as against $38,408,200 for the preceding week and $46,740,865 for the corresponding week last year.

STRIKE EXTENSION IN N. Y.

New York, July 27.—Intention to extend the street car strike, in progress here, to all lines in New York City, including surface and elevated, was announced to-day after a meeting of the general executive board of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Employees of America.

FORT GEORGE TORIES HOPELESSLY SPLIT

Mayor Gillett in Field for Legislature Alongside Hon. W. R. Ross

Prince George, July 27.—There is a second Conservative candidate in the field in Fort George riding. Mayor W. G. Gillett was nominated last night by the Independent Progressive Association. Thus Hon. W. R. Ross, who was sent to try his fortunes in this riding when it became obvious that he would be snowed under in Fernie riding, perceives his political horizon clouded over even more densely than it has been up till now.

The Independent Progressive Association was formed six months ago by secessionists from the Conservative Association led by Mayor Gillett, and for a time claimed to be the real original Tory body, and that the parent association was spurious. Since then it has changed its name.

Mayor Gillett's only platform so far is: More work and bigger appropriations for the citizens of Prince George. He was nominated on motion of A. Harper, a teamster employed by the city, seconded by Jake Stauffer, a city fireman.

Mayor Gillett was a Conservative and a prominent member of the association here formerly. The Liberal candidate in this riding is C. A. Gaskill, an able man of wide knowledge and great popularity, who will represent this portion of the province in the next legislature.

Mr. Brewster and Mr. Macdonald were guests at the city Liberal Association this afternoon at the Alexandra hotel, H. G. Perry presiding.

GREAT HEAT FELT IN THE MIDDLE WEST

Chicago, July 27.—A period of intense heat on the western plains states unequalled in continuity and extremely high temperature since 1901, the year of the hot winds in Kansas according to the government weather bureau here, probably will continue through the remaining days of July. The forecaster announced to-day that not a breath was stirring on the Canadian prairies, where relief must come, and that there was every indication that, except in spots visited by local showers, the drought would be severe.

At 7 o'clock this morning, Chicago, with a temperature of 84, was the hottest in the United States with the exception of Yuma, Ariz. The lowest temperature for the night here was 82, the highest minimum in the records in the local weather bureau. Throughout the day the temperature steadily mounted, reaching 98 at noon, with the prediction that the thermometer would register approximately 100 at 3 o'clock.

LIGHTNING KILLED TWO IN N. BRUNSWICK

St. John, N. B., July 27.—A severe electrical storm which swept the province last evening killed two girls. At Bedell settlement, Carleton County, lightning struck the house of John R. Cunningham, instantly killing his fifteen-year-old daughter Myrtle and setting fire to the dwelling.

At Compo Ridge, near Edmundston, a bolt struck the house of Frank Dubey and the tragedy at Bedell was practically duplicated. His seven-year-old daughter was killed and two small sons of the family and another daughter were burned. The house was destroyed.

NEGOTIATIONS ABOUT INDEMNITY FOR FRYE

Washington, July 27.—As a result of a conference to-day between Acting Secretary Polk and Prince von Hatzfeldt, counselor of the German embassy, negotiations to adjust the indemnity for the sinking of the American ship William P. Frye by the German raider U-boat Friedrich probably will be conducted by Ambassador Gerard with the German foreign office.

MONTREAL BANK CLEARINGS.

Montreal, July 27.—The bank clearings for the week ended to-day were $69,009,942, as against $78,408,200 for the preceding week and $46,740,865 for the corresponding week last year.

NEW HIGH RECORD IN WHEAT AT CHICAGO

Chicago, July 27.—Sensational damage reports over night caused wheat to open more than two cents higher this morning and then to sell at a new high record for the crop. Shorts were scrambling to cover, which added to the demand, and a wild market resulted. A message from Winnipeg reported the trade quite concerned over further rust development in Manitoba and Saskatchewan. Hot winds were reported at Omaha, and the north-west weather was unfavorable for wheat.

Wheat was in good demand all during the session and gained over three cents from yesterday. The cash trade was active and broad. The cash trade was demoralized by the bulge in futures. It was hard to sell wheat, except Nos. 2 and 3. The millers took a little of November. Premiums in oats and wheat were unchanged most of the day.

MONTREAL STOCKS

(By F. A. Borden & Co.)

Montreal, July 27.—Outside of the activity in Car Foundry, to-day's local market had a neglected appearance and trading was very dull. Car Foundry was steadier to-day, fluctuating within a comparatively narrow range and closing practically unchanged from yesterday's final. Trading in the paper shares was light and yesterday's activity in a few specialties was not repeated to-day. Some of the steel shares lost a fraction in the late trading, but the close was steady.

There is nothing in sight at present to indicate a renewal of activity in this market. Earnings continue good, but other causes are likely to keep the market dull for some time yet.

GARDEN PARTY HELD AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE

Big Function in Honor of Royal Visitors Held Yesterday
Afternoon

The garden party held yesterday afternoon at Government House by His Honor the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Barnard in honor of T.R.H. the Duke and Duchess of Connaught was attended by a very large concourse of specially-invited guests.

The function lasted from 4 to 6 o'clock, visitors on their arrival being welcomed formally by the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Barnard, who stood on the west lawn. Mrs. Barnard wore a dark striped taffeta costume, white fox neckpiece, and a smart black sailor hat trimmed with white ribbon, and worn low and straight on the forehead.

Hundreds of guests were grouped about the lawns when the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, the latter in a black and white frock and all-black hat with feather mount, arrived. The Princess Patricia, who accompanied them, was also in a graceful costume of black and white, with a big velvet rose tucked in her belt, and wore a becoming grey hat. Miss Yorke, lady-in-waiting to the duchess, was in blue.

The Fifth Regiment band, which was stationed in the grounds, played the National Anthem as the royal party advanced across the lawn, and a brief space was taken up with presentations to their royal highnesses of several of the visitors who were present.

The tea pavilion was on the lawn on the east side of the driveway, and was very pretty with its decorations of Dorothy Perkins roses. The crowd spread through the pretty gardens, mingling with the throng of well-dressed ladies and gentlemen being quite a large number of naval and military officers in uniform. The band of the Fifth Regiment during the afternoon kept up a programme of patriotic and military airs, and before leaving the grounds the duke summoned Bandmaster Smith, congratulating him on the fine performance of his musicians, and showing great interest in the bandmaster's statement that fifteen members of his band had gone on active service.
